

MAY BIG MONTH FOR PICTURES

Community House Promises Many Features

"The month of May bids fair to be one of the most successful in the history of Burton House movies," says Burton H. Atwood, Jr., director of the motion picture department. "The response which has been accorded the three pictures shown thus far has been very gratifying and thoroughly repays us for the time and effort which our May program represents."

"Next Tuesday we offer 'Love and Glory' which is a profoundly appealing drama dealing with the attempts of the French, in 1870, to make their holdings in Algiers more secure. It is an adaptation of the novel 'We Are French', which was written by Perley Poore Sheehan and Robert Davis. On the same program Andy Gump, the inimitable politician, will appear in 'Andy's Stump Speech.'"

"Next Friday's feature will be 'The Navigator,' starring Buster Keaton. This picture is described as the story of a young fellow who couldn't make good on earth but was a big success at the bottom of the ocean. 'The Navigator' is said to be so funny that even the 'frozen faced comedians' had to laugh at himself."

"The remaining pictures of the May program will be described in future issues of WINNETKA TALK and consist of the following:

"May 19, Reginald Denny in 'The Reckless Age.'"

"May 22-23, Douglas Fairbanks in 'The Thief of Bagdad.'"

"May 26, Hugh Boyd in 'The Tornado.'"

"May 29, Lon Chaney in 'He Who Gets Slapped' from the play by Leonid Andreyev."

PUBLIC FORUM

Editor, WINNETKA TALK:
The great number of dogs running at large in Winnetka has resulted in the school authorities asking the Village council to abate the nuisance.

There seems to be no good reason for dogs running at large in a suburban community like Winnetka; and there are many reasons against it. Some northern villages have muzzling laws for dogs, but muzzling is more of a hardship on dog and owner than to keep the dog at home. A muzzle law should not be required in a high-grade community like Winnetka. Self-government is better than so many laws.

Dogs running at large originated in the country. With the large open fields between homes, dogs seldom annoy their neighbors, and they are very useful; but as the density of homes increases, dogs at large become more and more of a nuisance until in the city no one would think of giving them freedom on the streets. Did you ever pass through a settlement or town where dogs ran after you and barked everywhere as you passed? Was it a town of good homes like Winnetka?

Dogs make wonderful pets and almost everyone loves a dog of one breed or another, and would like to own one. The mistake often comes in not adapting the size of the dog to the size of the lot. Perhaps the neighbor has a liking for other kinds of pets—birds or squirrels—or perhaps a garden or flowers. Is it the duty of the neighbors to fence out the dog, or the duty of the owner to fence him in?

But the greatest objection to dogs is the menace to children. Almost weekly, Winnetka children are bitten by dogs. Any dog will bite if hurt or teased, especially by those outside the owner's family. Small children do not always know when they are hurting or teasing a dog. Therefore dogs at large are a menace to innocent children.

A few citizens should not do what all might do. If everybody had dogs running at large, bull-dogs to Pomeranians, what a bedlam there would be.
