

WOMEN ARE ENGAGED IN VARIETY OF CLUB INTERESTS

Club Committee Luncheon Guests at Skokie Club

A MOST delightful luncheon was given to the building committee of the Woman's Library Club of Glencoe by its chairman, Mrs. Sherman M. Booth, on Monday, May 25, at the Skokie Golf club. Those present were Mrs. William A. Fox, president of the club; Mrs. Andrew T. MacLeish, Mrs. William T. Cresmer, Mrs. Edward H. Ravenscroft, Mrs. Fred P. Patton, Mrs. Chesley R. Perry and the hostess, Mrs. Booth. The only absentees were Mrs. Albert O. Olson, treasurer of the committee, who with other alumnae is in the East attending the semi-centennial celebration at Wellesley college, and Mrs. Albert R. Gates, new treasurer of the club, who is an ex-officio member of the committee by virtue of her club office, who was unable to be present on account of illness.

After a delicious luncheon served at a window table overlooking the beautiful Skokie valley, the committee retired to the new Green room just done over so artistically by two members of the Woman's Library club, Mrs. Fay R. Harper and Mrs. James M. Hobbs, where a business meeting was held. In view of the fact that the drive has so recently been postponed it was not expected that there would be much to say or do, but the members of the building committee have retained their enthusiasm to such an extent that the meeting did not adjourn until 5 o'clock.

Mrs. Booth stated that to save the club the postage which would have amounted to $30, she and her children had personally delivered the Prospectus of the proposed new club house to all of the members except those who have already left town for the summer. She will hold these until their return unless notified where they can be forwarded.

She further stated that the members who had volunteered to pay for the Prospectus, feeling that the return therefrom would be manifold, stood ready to reimburse the club for its entire cost, including the artist's bill which has already been paid. It was voted to collect this fund and have the bills paid at once.

The secretary, Mrs. Perry, was instructed to send letters of thanks to Henry P. Williams of Glencoe, whose wife is a member of the club and who is a member of the firm of Williams and Cunningham, who has so generously put the resources of his advertising organization at the disposal of the Woman's Library club without charge; to George S. Lyman of Highland Park, art director of his staff, who has contributed his services in directing the work of laying out the Prospectus; Harry DaBoll, the artist, who gave a material reduction of his usual fee; to the Barnes-Crosby Co., engravers, of which firm Mrs. Benjamin F. Buck of Glencoe is a member, who did the work at cost, and to Ralph D. Rogers of Glencoe whose wife is a member of the club and who is a member of the firm of Rogers and Company and generously printed the Prospectus at cost.

Mrs. Gates sent word that $210 had already been received from the card party held May 20, at the home of Mrs. Clarence T. MacNeille for the benefit of the building fund, and a letter of appreciation will be sent to Mrs. MacNeille and her committee for their successful efforts. The party was a delightful social affair and Mrs. MacNeille's spacious home was flooded with sunshine and filled with gaily attired club members who enjoyed the beginning of the year's activities for the building fund to the utmost. A narcissus, the club flower, laid on each plate, added to the charm of the ice cream and homemade cake served by the daughters of the committee members.

Glencoe Garden Club Tour and Tea Hostess

THE Glencoe Garden club kept open house on Friday, May 15, with the Kenilworth Garden club as guests. The visitors were met at 1:30 o'clock on the lawn of the Union church, and were then conducted through the gardens of the former club. The first garden visited was that of Mrs. Percy Armstrong on Bluff street. It was primrose time and hundreds of the lovely blossoms graced the garden walls. A short walk took the visitors to Mrs. Winthrop Gilring's garden where stately tulips nodded in the sun. From there they went to Mrs. George Mieth's, where her beautiful borders and rock garden were very much admired.

A short ride next took the guests to Mrs. George Horton's home to see a lovely hillside planting of many native flowers. The William Levering garden came next, where the quaint bird houses and charming pool made a delightful picture. A longer trip to Mrs. Carl Miner's garden made the visitors feel as if they were transported to Merrie England, where they saw her beautiful wall planting with many varieties of Alpines. They then went into her rock garden where a gurgling stream found its way into a lily pool.

The ravines and native landscapes of the Andrew and Bruce MacLeish gardens with their lovely setting of lake front and wonderful vistas, completed an enjoyable and instructive tour. Each owner was in her garden to explain and answer all questions. A delectable tea party completed the afternoon with Mrs. Bruce MacLeish as a gracious hostess.

The Glencoe Garden club extends an invitation to all garden lovers who wish to visit their gardens during May and June.

Landscape Design Institute in Session Next Month

THE Institute of Landscape Gardening under the auspices of the Lake Forest Garden club will open at the Gorton school, Lake Forest, on July 7, to continue until July 16.

This Institute will be devoted to the study of landscape design as a fine art of which the principles may be applied to small dooryards and gardens as well as to large estates. Hitherto, it is stated, both professional and amateur gardeners have been instructed mainly in the production of fine flowers and plants. They will appreciate the value of an added essential acquirement—that of well-considered design—which will transform the collection of charming details, found in the average garden, into a beautiful and permanent composition.

An exhibition of the work of a selected number of landscape architects will be displayed on the walls of the audience room, during the session, to show by what process the landscape architect produces his effects.

In order to illustrate the principles of landscape art, notable gardens in Lake Forest will be visited and explained.

The committee in charge is composed of Mrs. A. A. Carpenter of Lake Forest, chairman; Mrs. Tiffany Blake and Mrs. Horace Martin, also of Lake Forest, and Mrs. Howard Phillips, Mrs. William G. Hibbard, and Mrs. William B. Hale, of Winnetka.

Women's Golf Season Is Launched at Indian Hill

THREE Wednesdays already have been crossed off this season's calendar of women's golf events at Indian Hill club. On the opening day, May 13, the contest was for the fewest number of putts, with Mrs. T. K. Webster carrying off the first honor, and Mrs. M. P. Noyes, the second.

The following Wednesday, the players contested for low gross score on the five short holes, and Miss Dorothy Klotz and Mrs. William Lyon carried off first and second place, respectively.

Mrs. Alfred Noyes has been re-elected chairman of the women's golf events at Indian Hill, with Mrs. Charles A. Klotz her assistant.

Match for Women Golfers at Sunset Ridge June 2

WOMEN golfers at Sunset Ridge Golf club will have their first golf day this season on Tuesday, June 2, when they will have 18 holes of medal play. A buffet luncheon will be served at noon. Mrs. I. B. Connor has been selected to continue this year as chairman of the golf events for women, with Mrs. Carol Kendrick in charge during June.

This season a departure will be made from the custom of last year, for the golf and the card games will not occur on the same day. Mondays have been set apart as the time for the regular luncheons and afternoon bridge games.

IRISH AND JEWS

A son of Erin and a son of Abraham form the partnership of Kelly and Ginsberg—wholesale dealers in de luxe junk. That's the idea dramatized by Willard Mack in Jackie Coogan's "The Rag Man," which comes soon to a north shore theatre.
