

VACATION CLASS IN FULL SWING

Eighteen Children Enroll on Opening Day

Eighteen Winnetka children enrolled in the Daily Vacation Church school in Christ Church Parish House Monday of this week. The attendance will be greatly augmented, it is said, since the church expects to provide transportation for children living too far distant from the Parish House to make the journey by foot.

The school comprises junior, primary and kindergarten departments and begins session at 9 o'clock every morning, Saturday and Sunday excepted.

Sessions begin with worship, followed by a study period and time devoted to expression work. There are games out-of-doors.

The juniors are given a Bible drill, while the primary children enjoy stories.

Assembly is at 11:45 when the children salute the flag and have the closing exercises.

Work in the Kindergarten is similar to that in the upper classes.

Lack of transportation facilities appears to have prevented the attendance of many children. If there is sufficient demand from prospective pupils living a considerable distance from the Parish House, the school leaders will arrange for a bus to call at the homes. This, however, cannot be done unless there is sufficient demand, it is explained. The school telephone number is Winnetka 884. Miss Holgate is director of the school.

FLOUNDERED CLUB SHIP RIDES THE WAVES AGAIN

After many months of effort the of Port of Missing Men, floating home of the Buccaneers' club, in Wilmette harbor, has finally been raised.

The pumps were started about 10 o'clock Thursday morning, and before noon the craft was once more riding the waves.

The Port of Missing Men sank early in the winter, when ice developed small leaks around the water line which finally caused it to go down. An early attempt to raise the craft was unsuccessful and the success of the second attempt belongs to the Budahl and Melling company, of Evanston, and to E. J. Moberg, the diver who has worked for weeks to make the hull water-tight so that it could be pumped out and raised.

Godfrey H. Atkin, president of the club, announced that the hull was found to be only slightly damaged around the rudder post and that this damage had been repaired. He said that the craft would be dried out, painted and repaired, after which the equipment which has been in storage will be placed aboard and the floating club house will be ready for the summer activities. The club will then begin its yacht races. Several members have purchased new boats this year and officials of the club are looking forward to a busy season.

LEE SAYS:

WE KNEW a chronic BORROWER one time who BUMPED a friend of HIS one day for fifty DOLLARS and the friend COULDN'T turn him down BUT insisted that the MONEY be paid back BY A certain date AND the aforementioned CHRONIC promised to PAY every cent back BY that time “if he LIVED,” and the date CAME and went and the FIFTY failed to put IN ITS appearance so IN THE course of a few DAYS the borrower's WIFE got a long letter CONSOLING her over the DEATH of her husband AND the letter stated THAT the husband had PROMISED to pay back FIFTY dollars he had BORROWED “if he lived” AND it was only natural TO presume he was dead—AND we think that was a PRETTY clever stunt even IF THE fifty was lost.
