

Calendar Turns Again to Fourth of July Celebration

THE Fourth of July season comes once more as a time of informal gatherings, whether of families or friends, as a time of village celebration, as a time of crowded golf courses and tennis courts, and as an occasion for motor jaunts to nearby spots for a week-end of relaxation.

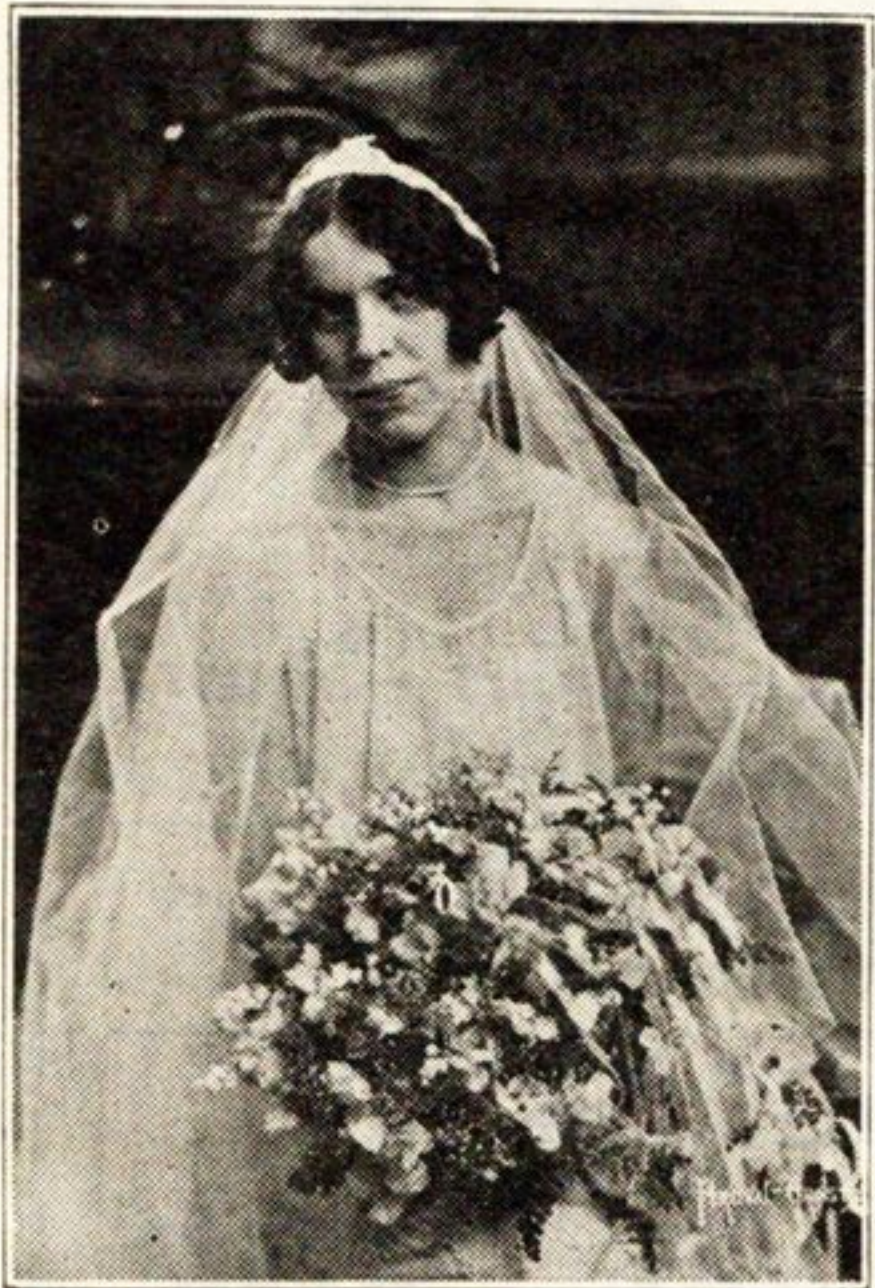

And this season, as usual, Winnetka families are thus celebrating.

Most of the social festivity will center at the golf clubs, where, after their golf and tennis matches, members and their guests will throng for dinners and dancing. Indian Hill club is having a dinner-dance tonight that will be one of the largest affairs of the summer season. At Sunset Ridge, plans are being made to serve 500 members and guests with a dinner that will be followed by out-of-door dancing.

The Sheridan Shore Yacht club, whose home is a portion of the attractive studio erected by Benjamin Marshall on the lake front at Wilmette, where the canal's terminus provides a suitable spot for craft of various kinds to ride at anchor, held the first dance of its season on the evening of the Fourth, and from now on, until the club's closing, members and their friends will dance there every Friday night.

The Buccaneers club, that unique ship which was the floating setting of many jolly dinners and dances the last two seasons, has passed an unfortunate winter resting on the bottom of the canal, but it is again afloat, and will once more become a scene of social gaiety, although it could not be raised from submersion in time to make its entrance on the social stage of north shore Fourth of July celebration.

When Miss Edith Brigham of Glencoe became the bride of James Delos Swan, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. James D. Swan of 932 Lave avenue, Saturday, June 27, she wore a white chiffon gown trimmed with pearls and d'Alencou lace. Her train of white chiffon, lined with the same material in flesh color, was held in place by a pearl head dress. She carried a shower bouquet of lilies-of-the-valley, white sweet peas, and sweetheart roses. Miss Lucy Lamon, the maid of honor, was dressed in pink chiffon trimmed with lace and her bouquet was of spring flowers.

The wedding was one of the attractive affairs of the past week. The Rev. John K. Coolidge read the service at St. Elizabeth's Episcopal church and a reception followed at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry H. Brigham of Glencoe.

Mr. and Mrs. Swan, who have motored north, will be away for about three weeks.

Mrs. Hugo Hartman, 755 Lincoln avenue, is chairman of the committee of the Chicago Women's Aid that provided individual luncheons July 2, for 100 children for seven social agencies. The youngsters were taken to Ravinia Park on a special morning train, and attended the children's concert Thursday afternoon. This picnic is given annually under the auspices of the Chicago Women's Aid civic department special recreation committee. Mrs. Joseph Mayer is chairman of the department.
