

SALE OF COOKER IS 'SELL-OUT'

Village to Keep Devices Permanently in Stock

Winnetka housewives voted solid approval of the village administration's efforts to provide for them an opportunity to obtain the most modern devices for their kitchens last week when they purchased practically the entire stock of Excell Electric Cookers and left orders for more at the special sale announced in WINNETKA TALK.

The officials at the village hall found themselves stocked with almost twice the number of cookers they had originally intended to handle on the first day and were dubious as to the outcome. The women soon quelled their doubts, however, by making the sale a complete sell-out.

It is planned to obtain more of the cookers to sell to other women of the village who may desire them. These will be sold well under the regular price, and at only a slightly larger figure than was set for the special sale. Both large and small sizes will be available to accommodate the needs of local homes.

The cookers are a combination of the old-fashioned fireless cookers and the modern electrical devices for heating. Food is placed inside, where there is ample room for several containers, and the apparatus hooked up to any lamp socket. When it has been heated to the correct temperature, it is turned off and the heat is retained by the insulated cooker to complete the cooking. They are said to be especially desirable for preparing hot meals for outings, being compact enough to carry in an auto on any trip.

Prescribe Uniformity of Hall Architecture

Business buildings on Chestnut square and in the vicinity of the new Administration building must conform to, or be in harmony with, the architectural style of that building, it was decided at a joint meeting of the public buildings and grounds committee of the Village council and a committee representing the Winnetka Plan commission, held Tuesday evening of this week. The committees considered the adoption of definite plans regarding the architecture of these buildings and Edwin H. Clark, the architect who designed the Administration building, was authorized to make plans and sketches for consideration at a future joint meeting of the committees.

Uniformity of architecture is one of the outstanding features in lending the desired distinctiveness to the Village mall created by Chestnut square and its background, which is to be the new Administration place, the officials stated. The authorities feel that all business interests contemplating improvement of their premises in that vicinity will be eager to co-operate with the Village in carrying through this general plan.

The Rapp and Franklin buildings, erected since the Village mall plan was formulated, already have lent a distinctive appearance to the vicinity.

Five New Residences Recorded in Permits

Applications for building permits for five new homes were received at the Village hall this week. T. A. Buenger, of Winnetka, will build a brick residence at 268 Ridge avenue to cost $15,000. H. G. Crowder, also of Winnetka, will build a frame and stucco home on Hibbard road to cost $20,000. Mrs. C. N. Clark will build a frame and stucco house at 465 Sunset road which will cost $15,000. Walter F. Murphy will build a frame residence on Greenwood avenue to cost $10,000 and C. A. Lowry, of Cleveland, Ohio, will build a frame residence on Scott avenue at a cost of $7,000. Other permits for garages and additions to existing buildings have been issued.

BUCCANEERS' CLUB GETS COVERING OF GAYEST HUE

Hues as gay as ever decked the ancient Spanish galleons in the days of Spain's sea power will enliven the old "Port of Missing Men"—floating home of the Buccaneers' club in Wilmette harbor—which has recently been raised from its winter's sojourn on the harbor bottom. The work of re-decorating and re-fitting is expected to be completed by August 15.

Wayne Andrews, 11 year old son of Emory C. Andrews, 785 Willow road, Winnetka, a member of the club, made a sketch of the club this week, from which his father, who is supervising the work for the club, drew up a color scheme.

The hull will be painted with horizontal stripes of green, red, blue and red again. The upper works will be painted with broad vertical stripes of bright yellow and blue. Other trimmings will be in keeping with this color scheme. Plans are under way for a formal opening of the club house when it has been made "seaworthy" again.

The club's fleet of small sailing boats will be at once put in commission and with the arrival of two new ones there will be eight in all, which should give some good exhibitions of sail-boat racing. The officers of the club this year are:

Charles L. Trumbull, president, Winnetka; Louis A. Ferguson, vice president, Evanston; Marshall Forrest, secretary, Winnetka; Harold Bennington, treasurer, Chicago.

Purple Golf Team Wins "Big Ten" Championship

Northwestern university's golf team won the Western Conference "Big Ten" golf championship last week at the tournament held at the Sunset Ridge Country club. The final results were as follows: Northwestern, 669; Michigan, 673; Chicago, 676; Illinois, 690; and Wisconsin, 698. The final play was run off during a drenching rain, but despite this handicap, the Northwestern men played a brilliant game and won. Capt. Dick Skaer and Don Heppes of the Purple were largely responsible for the victory, as Northwestern had trailed behind Michigan all morning. Heppes made the lowest scores of the day, 158.

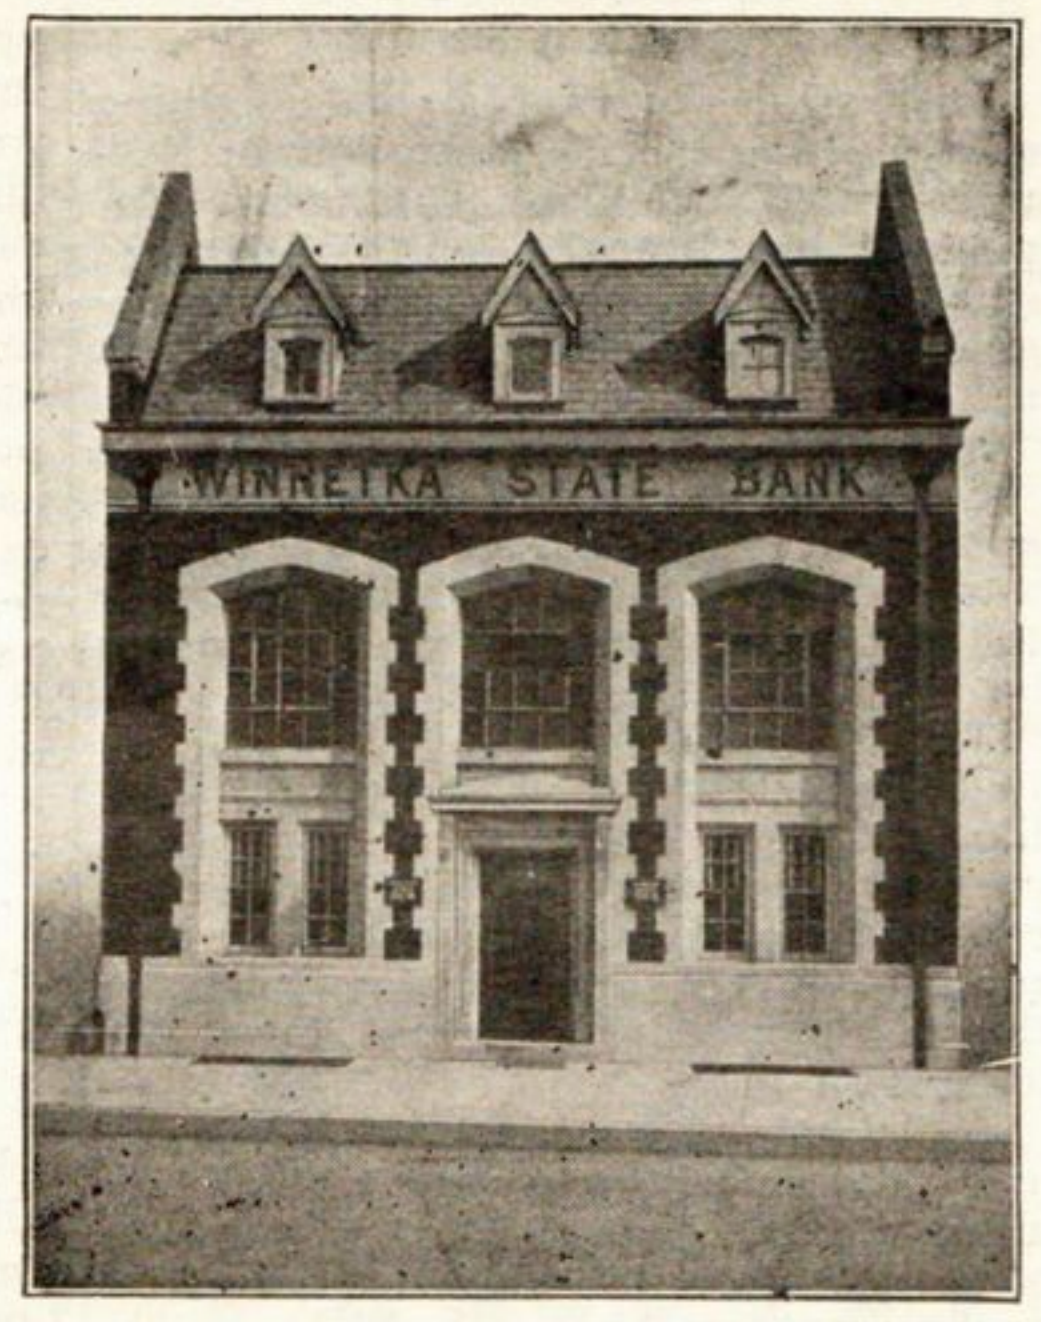

Mr. and Mrs. C. F. M. Miller have just returned to their home at 936 Elm street, after a trip through the East.
