

Postpone Meeting for Revival of Playfield

Although sponsors for a new Playfield golf association found it impossible Thursday night to get a full representation of the former association's membership together in an effort to revive the organization, seven interested members, including some of the officers met at Community House and are now planning a further effort to hold a meeting when vacationists return and a large representation can be had.

The leaders in the movement believe that there is still a prosperous future ahead for the organization, once the members can be gotten together to talk things over and make plans. They have found it difficult to get prospective members together, but with the nucleus of a real leadership already existing, it is thought that action is merely a matter of time. The golfers have been busy golfing at other links, but still have a desire to see a first class community course built.

Announcement will be made shortly as to date of the next meeting and a special effort will be made to interest members of the association.

Suspect Negro of Taking $80 from Tea Room Till

Richard Reed, colored janitor of the Hearthstone Tea Room and Candy Shop, 952 Linden avenue, Hubbard Woods, is being sought for theft of nearly $80 from the cash register of the shop on charges by Miss Florence Reed, proprietor.

Reed, who lives on Monroe street, Evanston, has not yet been located although the police have been searching for him the past two days. The theft was reported Thursday morning by Miss Reed and she stated it as her theory that it was an "inside job."

The janitor is known to have bought a bicycle the day before the theft occurred, leading the proprietor to believe that he had obtained the money from the shop.
