

WILMETTE GIRL HEROINE AT 13

Betty Funke Saves Girl from Drowning

The practical value of Girl Scout training in life-saving as taught to Wilmette girls was demonstrated by Betty Funke, 13-year-old Wilmette Girl Scout, who saved Laverne Foland,

Betty Funke

19 years old, from drowning while at Spirit lake near Spokane, Wash., last week.

Betty, who is as much at home in the water as on land, took a thorough course in life-saving last year while at Camp Elkhorn with other local Girl Scouts and won her badge. She has been spending the past month on a vacation with friends at Spirit lake instead of going to Camp Elkhorn.

While standing on the bank last Thursday, she heard frightened cries from the lake and her training sent her immediately to see what was wrong. Running out onto a pier, she saw Laverne Foland go down struggling and gasping. Betty dived in and quickly swam the hundred yards to the sinking girl.

When she arrived, Miss Foland was almost unconscious. She grasped her by the arm, to prevent a drowning grip being taken, flipped her to a floating posture and struck out for shore.

Her unusual strength as a swimmer made it possible to bring her burden in but even then her work was not done. Applying the approved methods of resuscitation taught to the Girl Scouts, she pumped the water from the girl's lungs and completed her rescue. Scores of persons are reported to have witnessed the rescue.

Betty is the daughter of Erwin H. Funke, 1008 Greenleaf avenue. He is vice-president of Von Cleff and company, hardware dealers of 190 North State street, Chicago.

With the Poets

LOVE'S IMMORTAL DAY

At dawn quiet abounded, sweet flowers surrounded—Alas!

A cloud of sense, and then the storm—

Yet early morn!

The winds and waves, whose shock aroused

Within my troubled breast

Most overwhelming stress, and fear.

Methought the weeds of error reappeared.

I cried unto the Lord: "Art Thou not here?"

A thunderbolt, a crash—an inner voice then spake:

Wilt never thou relinquish pride, envy, sensitiveness.

That instill hate, malice, with their deadly sting?

What tho to you someone was unkind—cruel, too, unfriendly?

Forgive, as thou wouldst be forgiven.

And pray for grace and vigilance from heaven;

'Twill be thy guide and sure defense;

A true reward and recompense.

That thou mayst dwell beside still waters,

And in the sunshine of His Love securely rest.

By Truth's own sword error, felled, lay wilted;

The day and night far spent, and yonder hilltop gray,

Yet wondrously tinted, fortells another dawn.

The "Peace be still"—'twas born amid the storm;

And Truth's sweet flowers of grace

DOG STARS IN CENTER FILM

"Silent Accuser" to Be Seen Here Friday

Friday, August 14, Community House will offer the second of the series of "greater" movies in celebration of "Greater Movie Season." "The Silent Accuser" has been selected as the feature picture and will be followed by Our Gang in "The Sundown Limited."

"The Silent Accuser" is a melodramatic novelty and also serves to introduce a new star to the screen. The newcomer is Peter the Great, an unusually intelligent police dog. If there is such a thing as personality in a dog, Peter the Great has it.

Peter the Great plays the title role of the story which was written by Jack Boyle and adapted to the screen by Frank O'Connor and Mr. Franklin, who have crammed their yarn with fast action. The cast is headed by Eleanor Boardman, Raymond McKee and Earle Metcalfe.

In handling the story of how a dog, through his almost human instinct and with the aid of the heroine, brings justice on the real criminal when the hero is falsely accused of the crime, the director has introduced a situation that has never before been used.

"The Silent Accuser" is one of those rare pictures which has equal gripping power on grown-ups and children. Neither can fail to respond to its certain appeal. Cameraman Charles Dreyer is responsible for the splendid photography.

Andy Finds Going Good Enroute to Yellowstone

Andrew Hostnick of Cadillac fame, who is conducting a party on a motor tour to Yellowstone Park, postcards WINNETKA TALK that he is well on the way on his "yearly grind."

"If you ever take this trip, be sure you have a 'Cad,'" he suggests. "Nothing to worry about. Just step on 'er. At Yellowstone soon."

Editor's note: This is not an advertisement for Cadillac, nor for Andy.

Mrs. Wallace W. Chickering, formerly of Hubbard Woods, will visit Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Case of 759 Burr avenue next week.

Alice Calhoun, in "The Happy Warrior," plays the part of a charming blonde English girl. This is one of the rare occasions that Miss Calhoun has had to appear as anything other than her lovely brunette self.
