

Plan Receptions for Girls About to Enter Colleges

SATURDAY, September 12, the North Shore branch of the Chicago Rockford College association will entertain at tea at the home of Mrs. Catherine Waugh McCulloch, a graduate of Rockford college, living at 2236 Orrington avenue, Evanston, in honor of the Chicago and Near-Chicago girls who have been accepted for admission to Rockford college in September.

Assisting Mrs. McCulloch will be: Miss Margery B. Windes of Winnetka, chairman of the North Shore branch of the Chicago-Rockford college association; Miss Lydia Robinson, president of the Chicago-Rockford College association; Miss Lorena Church, registrar of the college; Mrs. Walter Giffin, chairman of the South Side College association; Mrs. J. S. Milne of Evanston, former North Shore chairman; Mrs. Arthur L. Aldrich, Evanston associate chairman; Mrs. Herbert Lautmann of Highland Park, Lake Forest and Highland Park associate chairman; Miss Elizabeth Shedd of Chicago, Mrs. Emily Parsons Hunt of Evanston, Mrs. W. T. Hackley, the Misses Julia and Olive Raftree of Chicago, and Mrs. W. D. Marsh of Evanston.

Mrs. McCulloch's annual tea has proved a delightful way to bring the incoming freshmen in immediate contact with an enthusiastic group of Rockford College women who have finished their college work but have an active interest in the college and its new students. Thirty or more girls are entering this fall from the Chicago region.

Mr. and Mrs. George B. Ogan, 845 Locust street, have issued invitations for the wedding of their daughter, Phyllis, to George Keyes Ripley of Troy, N. H., Sept. 5, at high noon, at the Winnetka Congregational church, the Rev. J. W. Davies reading the service.

Miss Ogan will have as bridesmaids in attendance, Miss Alice Batchelor of Jamesville, Miss Ellen Swetil of Milwaukee, Miss Mary Ripley of Troy, sister of the groom, and Vera May Ogan, sister of the bride. Miss Virginia Ogan, another sister, will be maid of honor.

The best man is to be the groom's brother, Franklin Ripley, of Troy, and the ushers will be Jack Underhill of Boston, Russel Warren of Oak Park, Curtis Parker of Bloomington, and Bob Sanford of Evanston.

Mr. Ripley is an Amherst man of the class of 1915, and is a Phi Beta Kappa. Miss Ogan is a graduate of the Boston school of Physical Education and taught last year in the Mary C. Wheeler school at Providence, R. I.

Mr. and Mrs. Ripley will be at home in Troy, N. H., after October 1.

Mr. and Mrs. Ogan gave the wedding dinner at their home Friday evening. Many out-of-town guests were present.

Mrs. Elizabeth DeWitt, who has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. Charles H. Dunlap of 706 Center street, for about six weeks, will leave tomorrow for her home in Denver.

Gladioli and palms in pretty arrangement made a charming setting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Kreger when their daughter, Isabelle, became the bride of Oliver Nichols at 8 o'clock, Friday, August 28. To the strains of the wedding march played by Mrs. Charles Hamilton Kreger of Winnetka, the bridal procession took its place before the Rev. J. C. Parrett of the First Presbyterian church of Hammond, who read the service.

The bride wore a gown of ivory crepe embroidered in rose design. Her veil was held in place by a bandeau of pearls, and she carried a shower bouquet. Miss Kathleen Kreger of Glencoe, as maid of honor, wore peach colored brocaded crepe and carried Aaron Ward roses. Little Caroline Ann Phillips of Madison, Wis., the flower girl, was attired in a frock of peach violet and carried a basket of wild rose petals.

The groom was attended by his brother, Victor Nichols, as best man.

After the wedding supper, Mr. and Mrs. Nichols left for an extended lake trip.

The bride formerly resided with her grandmother, Mrs. Isabelle Kemp of Glencoe.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew C. Perrin and their small son, have returned to their home at 85 Abbotsford road, after a month spent in the north woods of Wisconsin. On their return trip, the party motored through the iron country in the northern peninsula of Michigan.

Mr. and Mrs. John McKeown and their son and daughter, Kenneth and Winifred, who have been traveling abroad for three months and a half, are expected to return to their Winnetka home on South Private road the first part of next week.

The National Park Seminary Day nursery that has been doing such splendid work, has just purchased a lot, the cost of which was about $12,000, on North Linden street, Chicago, a purchase necessitated by the growth of the work. Miss Mildred Howe, 555 Walnut avenue, is keenly interested in the nursery, as are a number of other National Park seminary alumnae.

Elwood W. Ankrum, John G. Dewar, and Mrs. A. J. Balban are Winnetkans on the board of trustees for the Chicago Junior school, a home and farm for boys, located on the Fox river near Elgin, who are sponsoring the Tag day campaign Monday, September 14, when friends of the Chicago Junior school will make an effort to reap a substantial harvest.
