

Resume Concerts in October

George C. Dasch, Symphony Conductor

Music lovers of New Trier who have not as yet subscribed for season tickets for the series of seven New Trier symphony concerts given under direction of George Dasch are advised to register at this time with R. D. Burtner, 1504 Monadnock building, Chicago, for a place on the waiting list of ticket holders. While the subscription list was filled early this summer, it has been the experience of the symphony association that many people relinquish their tickets so that tickets are usually available to the waiting list.

The Symphony Players' organization has been increased to 45 pieces and the concert series extended to seven performances. George C. Dasch will conduct.

CARE WILL SAVE MONEY ON CARS

Easy to Be a Spendthrift While Motoring

It used to be the fashion for the spendthrift to give champagne parties, but there is an easier way to throw away money, says a bulletin issued by the Chicago Motor club. Force your car up steep hills, so that every part of it strains and the engine overheats. Never shift to second, as the instruction books advise. This is an excellent way to get rid of surplus coin of the realm that may be annoying you. If you have ambitions to be a motor spendthrift, you can complete the picture by descending the hill with clutch thrown out, and with your brakes trying to hold the car. If you are inclined to be a bit careful of your money and life, you will shift to second or low and let the engine act as a brake in descending hills.

Motorists accustomed to flat country often get into trouble where hills are encountered. In parking your car do not depend upon your emergency brakes. Cramp the wheels in to the curb and leave the gears set in low or reverse.

Many accidents are caused by the driver who does not know how to pass another car going in the same direction. Do not wait until you get about 10 feet behind the car ahead and then dart out; start moving over to the left when you are two or three hundred feet behind; sound your horn as you drive up close, and then pass. Here is the reason for this suggestion: If you wait until you are close to the car preceding you, a driver following you may decide that he wants to pass you, and if you make up your mind to turn out at the same time that the other driver comes to the same conclusion the result may be disastrous. If, however, you ease your way over to the left hand side of the road you have eliminated this possibility of an accident.

As women are freed from some of their cares with the re-opening of the schools, they begin planning work for the winter for their own pleasure and profit. The French department of the Winnetka Woman's club is glad to announce that Monsieur Georges Cauuet has enlarged his school for the study of French to a school of languages. This winter he will offer Italian and Spanish, as well as French, under able teachers of his school.

BIG BABY SHOW AT STATE FAIR

Over 2,000 Babies Expected at 1926 Fair Feature

More than 2,000 babies will vie with each other for mental and physical supremacy in the biggest baby contest ever conducted at the Illinois State Fair, according to Dr. Isaac D. Rawlings, state health director, who is in personal charge of the project. Over 1500 have already been registered and a 1000 more are expected before entries close on Sept. 12. New and commodious quarters will comfortably accommodate all comers, said the director, while a double staff of medical experts will insure a careful, highly scientific examination for every child who comes. Best of all there will be no fee or charges of any kind while a large number of enviable awards are offered.

"Twins, triplets, families of six and solo entries will compete for the $600 in cash, the hundred dollar value lady's gold watch and the Governor's loving cup which are included in the 52 awards offered." Dr. Rawlings said. "Nearly every important city in the state from Cairo to Freeport as well as 60 countries are represented by the infant contenders whose registrations are already on file.

"New and spacious examining quarters, commodious enough to accommodate all comers, have been completed during the last few days. They occupy 2500 square feet in a room to themselves in the Exposition building building. With framework of spotless white and wide glass panels along the double public observation aisles, the quarters provide a dozen booths in which tests will be made individually under quiet, peaceful conditions free from haste and yet in clear view of interested spectators. Arrangements are such that mothers and children will be kept from contact with the public during the entire conference procedure.

"The conference organization will consist of a double professional staff. Each child will pass under the careful observation of well known child specialists, physicians, psychiatrists and dentists and each will have the constant attention of trained nurses. Medical advisory service for the benefit of mothers who wish to inquire into the findings of the examinations, will be provided throughout the period of the conference.

"From a small beginning of doubtful possibilities, involving only 250 babies and a staff of a dozen doctors and nurses, the baby conference has grown to its present magnitude in 10 years and is now regarded as one of the leading features of the fair. Experience has taught state authorities that after all, the most interesting thing in the world to people is people and that interest in the health and well being of babies is especially vital."
