

ARRANGE CENTER WINTER PROGRAM

Community House Soon to Hum With Activity

Plans for the activities in Community House for the coming season are taking shape, it is announced, and the work of this busy institution promises to open up bigger than ever. There will be the usual gymnasium classes for men, women, Friendship Circle girls and children. Some of these classes will be conducted twice a week. Provision is made for basket ball, tennis, and other games.

The aesthetic dancing classes will be continued under Miss Patricia Taylor. These proved so successful under her instruction last year that the parents requested more of this work, and director of gymnasium, Harry P. Clark, has arranged for these classes two afternoons a week this year—on Monday and Tuesday.

The social dancing for boys and girls will be under the instruction of Miss Margaret Carswell who has had much successful experience in this work. As both these classes promise to be filled soon, it is advisable that parents wishing to enter their children in them, make arrangements as soon as possible.

The women's gymnasium class will meet Monday and Thursday mornings at 9 o'clock. On other mornings the gymnasium will be available for tennis. Gymnasium classes for men and young women will be held twice a week this year.

Asks Village to Alter

Lot Zoning Designation

An application was received from Seibert Dietz, 688 Center street, by the Village council last Tuesday evening to rezone a lot described as Lot 50, County Clerk's division, from residential to commercial classification. The matter was referred to the board of appeals in accordance with the provisions of the zoning ordinance. A public hearing will probably be held in the near future.

Drama Club Busy With Casting of Its Plays

Casting of plays is the business these days for the producing committee of the Community Drama club of which Mrs. Sherman Goble is chairman. As announced in last week's issue of WINNETKA TALK, the club has outlined its program for the approaching season, having determined upon a group of unusually interesting plays including "Old Lady 31," "The Piper," "Tillie of Bloomsburg," and "The Square Peg." Rehearsals are to begin without delay, it is said, and the club is particularly desirous of securing the names of new members to augment the present membership list, in order that the best talent available may be obtained for the various vehicles.

Plays will be given on the second Wednesday and Thursday of each of the months of November, February, March and April.

Of the plays listed above, "The Piper" will be given in conjunction with the Dramatic department of the Skokie school, it is announced.

Among the new residents in Winnetka are Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Shibko of 470 Orchard lane.

Banking for the People

The Romance of the Bank Check

IMAGINE the sudden disappearance of that useful, commonplace slip of paper—the bank check.

Business houses would need additional clerks to take in money and give change to the line which would form to pay bills with currency.

People in these lines, with bills to pay elsewhere, would waste time plodding from one waiting line to another.

If all the payments by check today were made in person, and with currency, the streets, particularly in our cities, would be crowded with persons rushing around with large amounts of currency in their pockets.

Holdup men would outnumber the police. The police would be distracted with overwork.

Keeping currency in pockets, and office tills and safes, instead of banks would decrease bank deposits to such an extent that production and industry would be severely curtailed; for there would be infinitely less money to lend.

Such procedure would better fit the simple, far away days, when banks and bank checks were unknown.

Millions of checks are drawn in this country every day. The number is said to be six billion a year.

The useful bank check makes it possible to transfer ownership of funds and still keep them available for stimulating commerce.

Business institutions conduct fully nine tenths of their money transactions without handling cash.

Professional men are paid mostly in checks, which they deposit.

Currency performs its mission best, and with the greatest public good, when it is in banks, with checks circulating in its stead.

Those who draw checks dispatch them in the mail; and then continue doing their own constructive work while the checks journey to their scattered destinations.

No fear of loss of currency, for lost checks may be replaced. No risking of currency, for none is exposed to loss in check transactions. No change to make, for a check is the right change. No disputed claims for payment, for a check is a receipt.

The business world is indebted to the Banks of the nation for maintaining the system of payment with the useful, commonplace slip of paper—the bank check.
