

FORM CHICAGO FORUM

North Shore Leaders Affiliated With Great Civic Enterprise Established for Non-Partisan Discussion

Prominent north shore citizens, including Mrs. B. F. Langworthy of Winnetka, Harold L. Ickes of Hubbard Woods, and S. J. Duncan-Clark of Wilmette, are connected in an official capacity with the organization of the Chicago Forum, a civic enterprise which contemplates bringing to this vicinity speakers of national and international reputation for the discussion of important questions of the day.

Organization of the Chicago Forum council, which is to sponsor the discussions, was effected this week, according to Prof. William E. Dodd of the University of Chicago, who is president of the council. Mrs. Langworthy, president of the Woman's City club, is vice-president; Mr. Ickes, a member of the council, and Mr. Duncan-Clark, a member of the advisory committee of the councils.

The council is made up of prominent men and women of many creeds and of differing political and economic faiths who believe that Chicago and its environs is in need of a non-sectarian, non-partisan clearing house for information and discussion of topics of wide interest. The first session is scheduled for November 1 and the meeting place is to be the Apollo theatre.

The council has brought to Chicago as director of the Forum Council, Fred A. Moore who conducted several of the earlier community forums in the city and has since made a name for himself as a director of forums in other parts of the country. Mr. Moore was engaged in many forms of social service in Chicago while directing forums on the north, south and west sides until summoned in 1918 to organize community work for the War Camp Community Service. He is now giving his full time to the Chicago Forum council and will preside at the meetings to be held in the Apollo theatre.

The first year's program calls for 25 forum meetings on successive Sunday afternoons, at each of which there
