

Promise Sell-outs at Purple Football Games for Season

Packed stands will greet Northwestern university's football team at all the games to be played this fall according to announcement made by Edward B. Davidson, manager of the ticket sale. Never in the history of football at the Purple school has the advance sale been so large as it is this season. The early games with South Dakota this Saturday and with Carlton October 10, will see practically every seat on Northwestern field filled.

Exceptionally heavy sales for the conference games to be played at Evanston and in Chicago are reported. A capacity crowd will attend the Indiana game on October 31 which will be the Northwestern homecoming. Thousands of grads have already written for reservations on that date.

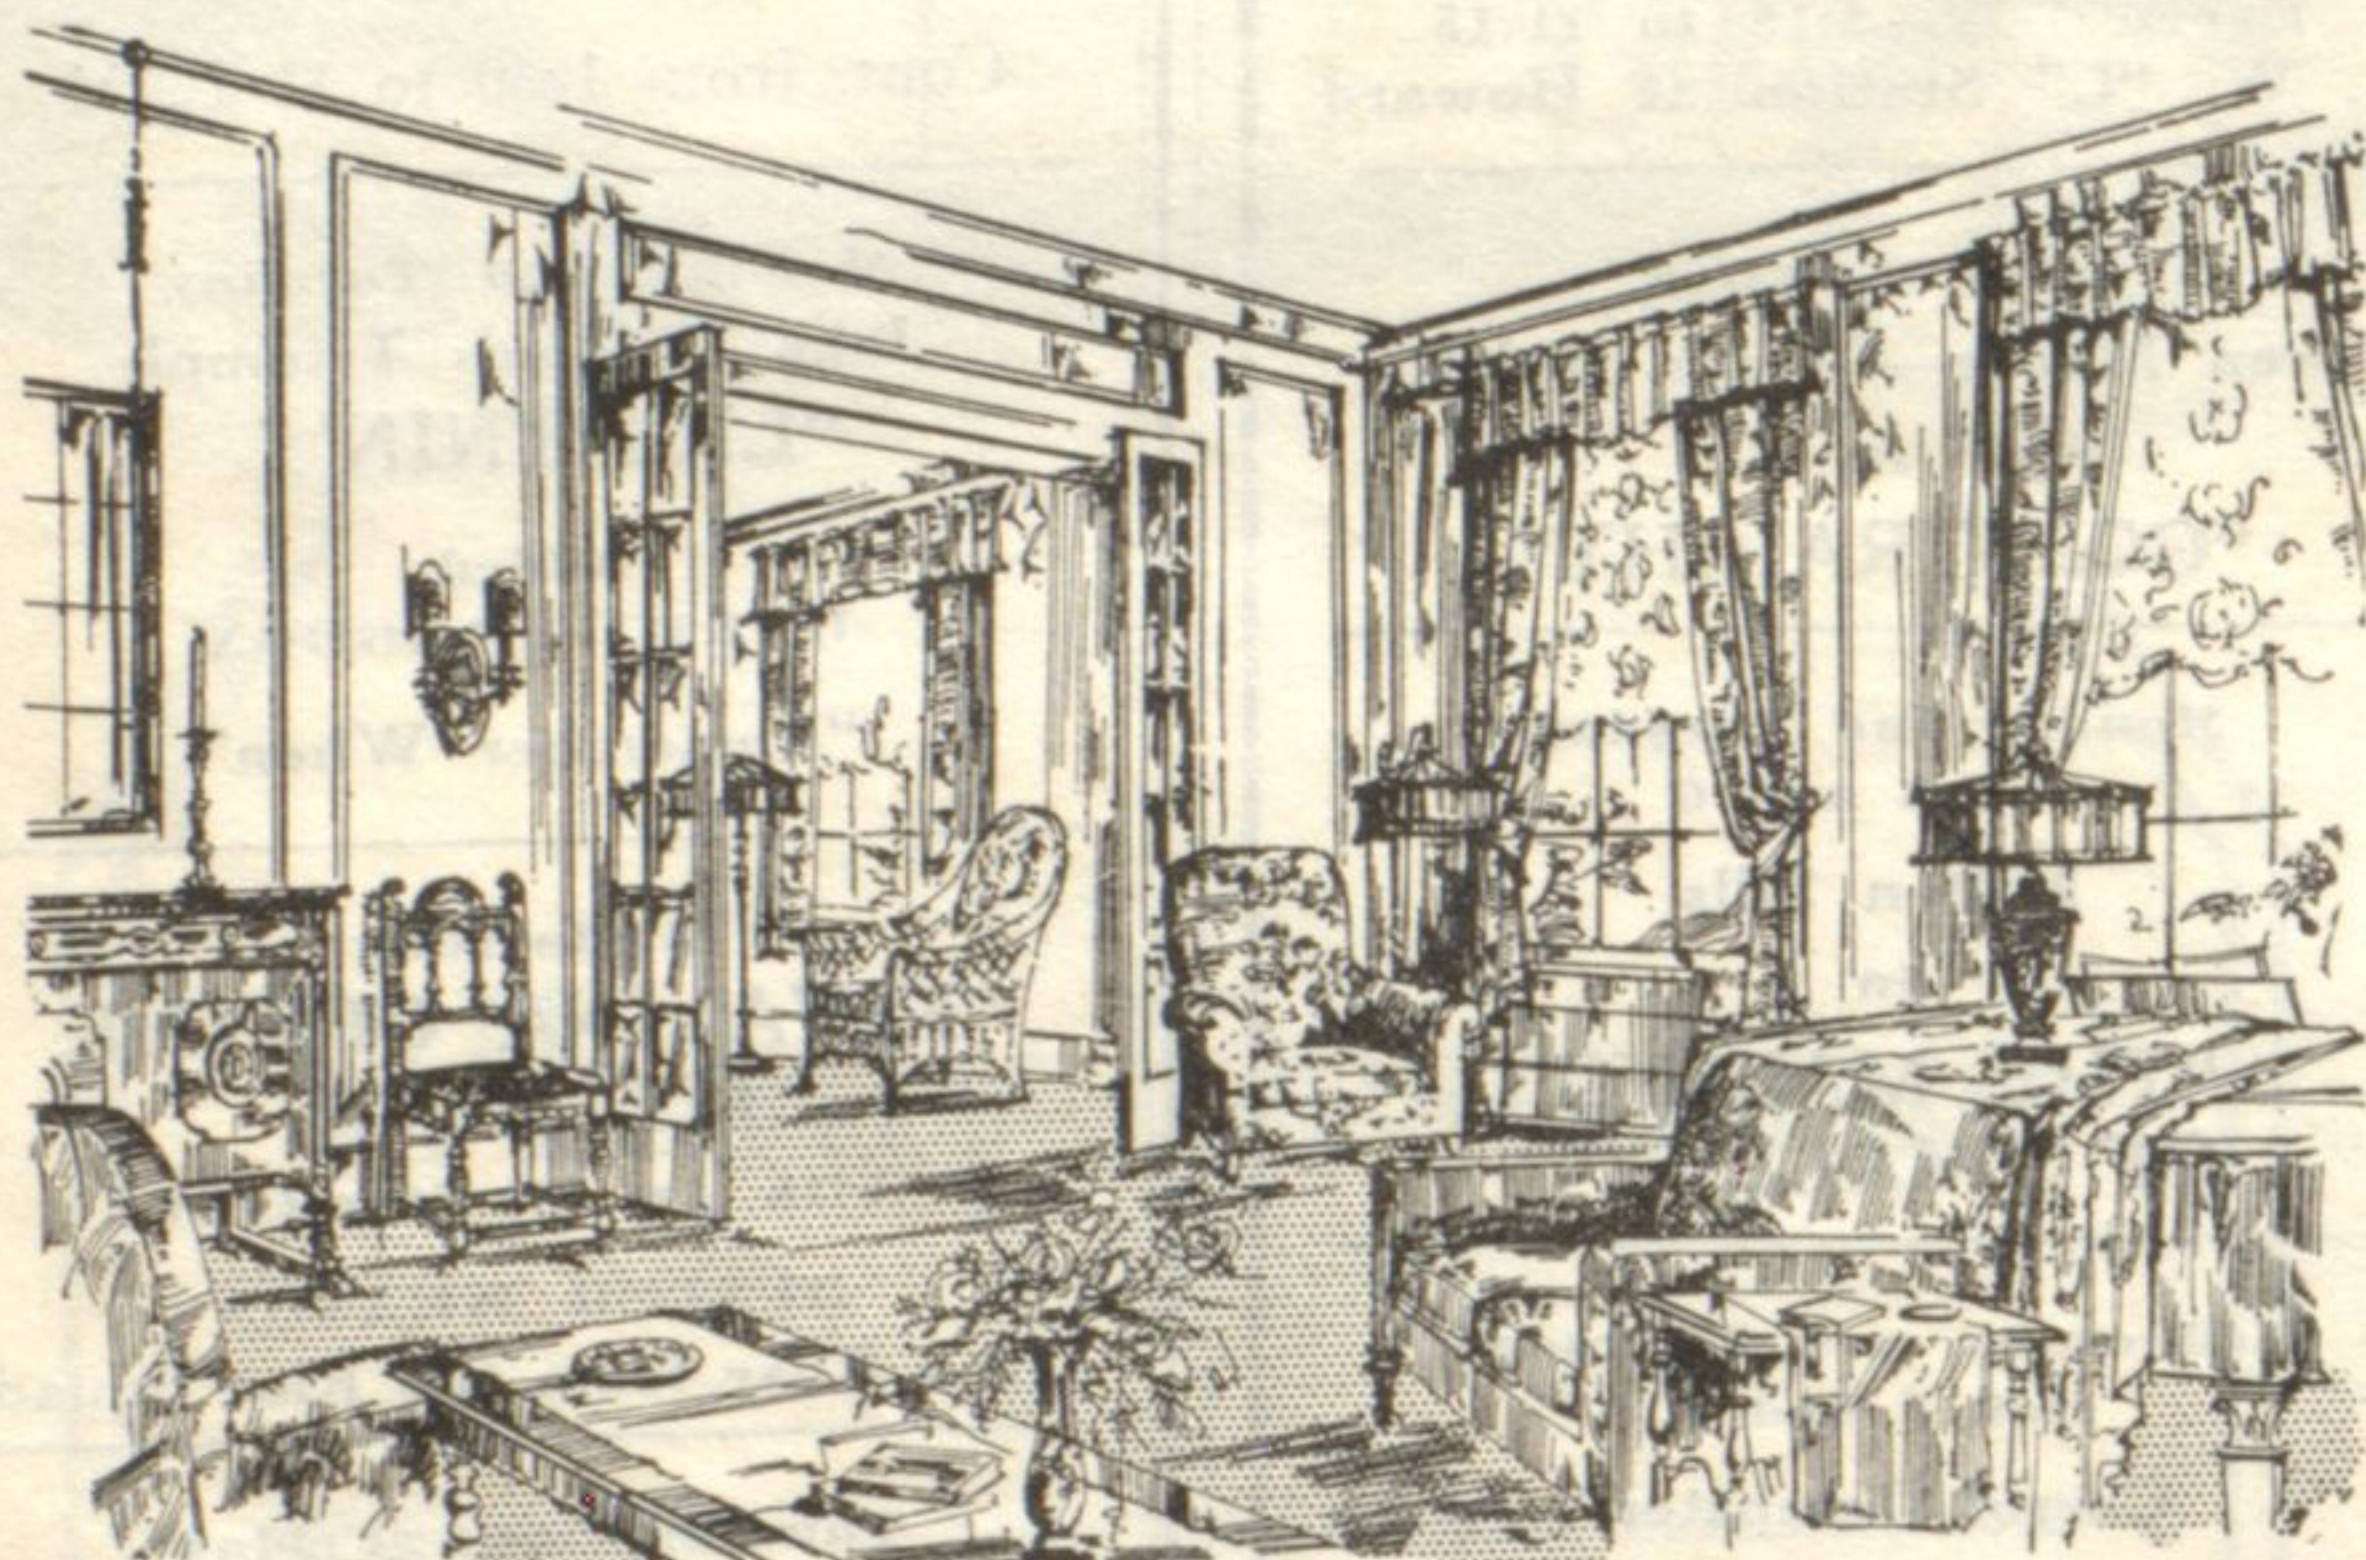

Soldiers Field at Grant Park, Chicago, will be taxed to hold the throngs which will be on hand to witness the Northwestern-Michigan game November 7, declares Mr. Davidson. Last fall the Purple played Notre Dame on the same field and thousands were turned away from the great stadium. This season the strength of the two competing teams will assure another heavy attendance.

When the visiting Tulane eleven from New Orleans meets the Purple at Stag field another huge crowd is expected. Tulane, last year champions of the South, will come North with a veteran team prepared to give the Purple considerable opposition. "The Green Wave" as the Tulane aggregation is termed throughout the South, is anxious to put the skids under Coach Thistlethwaite's boys.

Due to the importance hinging on the struggle and in order to assure sufficient seats for all it was decided to stage the game at Stag field.

Mr. and Mrs. John T. Metcalf have rented their home at 1082 Cherry street and will live with Mr. and Mrs. John Buckingham this winter until their new house on Locust street is completed.
