

Important Announcement to PACKARD'S CLIENTELE

THE GROWTH OF PACKARD business on the North Shore has been so rapid that for the third time within eighteen months we are compelled to move into larger quarters.

Less than eight months ago we moved into our new Sales and Service building at Railroad Avenue and Clark Street, Evanston, and in this short time Packard business has grown so remarkably that it has already outgrown this new building. We are starting at once to double the size of this building and it is necessary that we vacate the premises during the time of reconstruction.

For this period, however, we will occupy the garage next door south on Railroad Avenue and here we will render temporary service. We will of course be cramped and may have to ask our owners to depend on our main Service Station at 37th Street and Princeton Avenue, Chicago, for major repairs, but we hope you will be patient with us for we will soon put at your service the finest automotive headquarters on the North Shore—built by Packard for Packard owners.

We will move back into our own building—doubled in size—about January 1st, 1926.
