

Ibsen Drama Next
Lecture in Course
by Alexander Dean

Alexander Dean will give the third lecture of his course on Contemporary Drama next Wednesday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock in the Boy Scout room at Community House. These lectures are given under joint auspices of the Community Drama club, and the the Winnetka Woman's club and next week's lecture is to be on "Ibsen and the Drama of Ideas." Mr. Dean will discuss in particular "The Wild Duck," which was so popular in New York last winter. The revolutionary Ibsen and his effect on and contribution to modern drama, the strength and weakness of the problem play and the position of the "well made" play will also be discussed. There will be a brief resume of some of the more outstanding modern exponents of Ibsen, such as Pinero, Galsworthy and Channing Pollock.

The talk on Wednesday of this week on Shaw's "Candida" and the history of satiric drama was reported as of great interest both to those who had seen the play and also to those who had merely read of it.

These lectures are given every Wednesday afternoon and are open to the public for a small admission. Anyone who is at all interested in the modern theater cannot help but derive great pleasure and profit from this course, handled as it is in Mr. Dean's own inimitable manner, it is said.
