

WOULD MAKE OLD HALL OVER INTO FIRE HOUSE

Architect Tells Plan to Village Council; Visualizes Structure of Great Beauty

Plans for a new fire station for the Village were told council members Tuesday evening by the public buildings and grounds committee. Some time ago S. S. Beeman, an architect, was authorized by the council to make a study of the present Village hall with the idea of its conversion into a fire station when the new building is completed.

Preliminary plans and drawings for the new building were shown to the council members and made a favorable impression. In the plans the new building would be two stories in height, with the exit drive for the fire apparatus extending from the east side and entering the new street which is to run along the west side of the railroad tracks.

Provides for Future Growth

The new building would be very beautiful and no one would recognize it as the old Village hall, it is explained. It would have much more space than is now necessary and would provide for the future growth of the Village for years to come. The building would provide adequate space for sleeping and recreation quarters for the firemen and would be a great improvement over their present quarters.

In considering the matter, council members were asked to take into consideration the fact that a new fire station, erected on some other site yet to be acquired, would entail a total expenditure as great as the cost of the conversion of the present Village hall, although the resulting building would be neither as large nor as beautiful. The matter is under consideration by the council.

Mrs. Hermon B. Butler, whose home is at 715 Prospect avenue, has gone into the city to spend the winter in Mrs. Washburn's apartment on Astor street which she has rented.
