Famous Trio Wins Plaudits of Music Lovers in Initial Chamber Recital; Elshuco Trio Next Program

On Sunday afternoon, October 25, the North Shore Chamber Music association presented the Muenzer Trio at its initial recital of the 1925-26 season. On this occasion the smaller room in the Kenilworth Assembly hall was filled to the doors with music lovers from all the north shore towns, Evanston included.

The artists offering the recital were Hans Muenzer, violinist, Hans Koebel, cellist, and Rudolf Wagner, pianist. The trio gave a program consisting of two numbers, the first, Beethoven's Trio in B flat major; the second, a Trio in D minor by M. E. Bossi. Both compositions were played not only with remarkable technical skill and rhythmic precision, but also with very gratifying appreciation of the shades of feeling expressed by the two composers.

A pleasing addition to the usual elements of such an occasion was the serving of cakes and coffee at the recital's close. This made of an affair that might otherwise have been somewhat stiff and formal an afternoon hour that was social as well as individually stimulating and educational.

In the absence of Mr. Wells, the president of the association, Mrs. Cotton announced that the next program would be offered on December 6 by the Elshuco Trio, of New York. This trio has made only four appearances in Chicago and on each occasion has been highly praised by the critics. In New York the recitals of this famous trio have been so largely attended that at the hour of the performance, only standing room was available. It will be a rare treat to hear these artists on December 6, and the association, and Mrs. Amiel Spach especially, is to be congratulated on obtaining an engagement from them. The third concert of the year will be given on April 18 by the Philharmonic Quartet of Chicago, led by George Dasch.

Gives Novel Dinner at Kenilworth Home for Four Young Folk

Delightful, as well as unique, was the dinner party Miss Elizabeth Hannah gave Friday evening at her home, for two prospective brides and their fiancés, Miss Ann Calloway and George Harold Stevens, and Miss Dorothy Weimer and James Prentiss, Jr., whose weddings will be events of the autumn and early winter.

Thirty young people sat down to dinner, every one prepared for an amusing evening, as the invitations made the guests feel that a rare treat was in store for them. The invitations were unique, for there came through the mail to each invited guest, a paper pie plate with the invitation written on one side in the form of a funny jingle.

It was a "hard times party," and the dinner was served in a large room in the basement of the Hannah residence. After dinner, instead of bridge, toys and games were produced at each table, and all the young people entered into the fun of the games with zest, enjoying the change from the more conventional type of entertainment.

INSULATED GARAGES

Ordinary garages are merely a protection against rain and snow, but in winter weather they are almost as cold inside as out. A Union Insulated Garage, on the contrary, is a scientifically designed structure that, like a thermos bottle, keeps its contents warm.

When you run your car into an unheated garage of the ordinary kind the heat stored up in the car quickly escapes through the walls and roof of the garage. In a Union Insulated Garage this heat is prevented from escaping, and without other heat than that furnished by the warm car you have a freeze-proof garage.

Many years of experience in building cold storage warehouses and other insulated structures have taught us how to get the best results at a minimum of expense. Hence, the insulated garage we will build for you will cost but little more than an ordinary garage, and convenient monthly payments—only slightly in excess of what you now pay for a rented garage—can be arranged if desired.
