COMEDIES FOR CENTER

Viola Dana and Raymond Griffith to Provide Entertainment at Community House Next Week

Two good comedies will be offered at Community House next week when Viola Dana in "The Beauty Prize" is featured at the Tuesday shows and Raymond Griffith in "Paths to Paradise" at the Friday performances.

The story of "The Beauty Prize" is by Nina Wilcox Putnam and has for its heroine a New York manicurist, who is mistaken for a society girl when her mother takes care of a wealthy matron's home during the summer.

She enters a beauty contest, and is chosen to represent the state at the national finals. She wins and is about to accept the cash prize, when she decides she has triumphed under false pretenses, and gives the money back. In order to escape the publicity of her act, she steals away to a small town, and nearly starves. Then occurs a climax said to be the newest thing in climaxes.

It takes two clever crooks to escape some half dozen traps laid for them in California coast cities while being chased from San Francisco to Tia Juana, Mexico, and back again by a troop of police, but Betty Compton and Raymond Griffith prove just that clever. The unusual chase provides much of the interest in "Paths to Paradise," a fast-moving Paramount comedy, which comes to the Community House next Friday.

North Shore Women Aid Children's Home Bazaar

Thursday, November 5, will be the date of a large bazaar to be given at the Blackstone hotel in Chicago for the benefit of the St. Mary's Home for Children, of Chicago, an Episcopal institution. The bazaar will start at 10 o'clock in the morning and there will be many choice and unusual things brought especially from England, France, Holland and other European countries for sale at reasonable prices. At 8 o'clock in the evening the floor will be cleared and there will be dancing. The affair will be held in the Crystal ballroom of the hotel. Many north shore residents are expected to attend. The home cares for children of all denominations.

The Historical Society of Kenilworth is planning to hold its annual dinner Tuesday, November 17. This is an event much anticipated each year by all who are fortunate enough to have lived in Kenilworth twenty years or who lived there twenty years ago or longer.

Mrs. Samuel Comley (Miss Helen Cresap of Kenilworth) left Friday for New York to visit Mr. Comley's parents. She expects to attend the Yale-Princeton game and then go to Boston and visit Mrs. Donald McLaughlin, who was formerly Eleanor Eckhart.

Dawes to Be Guest at Purple-Hoosier Game

Vice-President Charles G. Dawes will help Northwestern celebrate its annual homecoming this Saturday in the game against Indiana. The Vice-President accepted an invitation extended by President Walter Dill Scott to attend the game. President Scott, who will be in the East Saturday attending a convention of university heads, has turned over his box to the Vice-President.

It will be the first homecoming that President Scott has missed since he became president of Northwestern university five years ago.

Undergraduates on the Evanston campus are making extensive plans to welcome back the alumni for the annual get-together jamboree before and after the game. The contest with the Hoosiers is the only Big Ten game to be played in Evanston this fall and already a capacity crowd is assured by the advance sale of tickets.
