

DURNED IF IT 'AINT A RIGHT SMART PLACE

Frint George's "Hay Loft" Dance Restaurant Promises a Genuine Novelty

Hay, Hay! That's the call of the latest novelty in the realm of "dine and dance," and it's an idea born in the fertile brain of a Wilmette man. You guessed it. Frint George is the man, The Hay Loft the novelty, and Evanston the location.

Early next month—about December 8, it is hoped—Mr. George will open to the public of the north shore, what promises to be the most unusual luncheon and dance place this vicinity has ever gazed upon.

At the corner of Grove street and Sherman avenue will be found a thoroughly modern eating house in a setting that will be easily reminiscent of the old barn back on the farm, hay, hay, and everything.

There will be a genuine "hay shaker" to meet you at the door, the good farmer's wife to greet you as you enter; a score of milkmaids to serve you the best a scientifically appointed cuisine can afford and "barn swallows" to provide the syncopation. The whole scheme of things will be altogether barn-like, from the hay stringing down from the loft above, to the lantern lamps, the rural implements of every description and the inevitable hornets nest under the rafters.

But, this is taking away the fine edge of anticipation. Just this, by way of tapering the story. There will be

Household Device Gets Much Praise

Called One of Greatest Labor- Saving Inventions Known to Woman

A new household machine, "Kitchen-Aid," has been hailed by domestic science experts in several large universities as "one of the greatest labor-saving devices known to woman."

Does All Heavy Cooking Tasks

With its aid the housewife can mix every kind of dough and batter; cut shortening into pastry; mash potatoes to snow-white fluffiness; mix and beat mayonnaise, eggs and icings; whip cream, meringue; cream butter and sugar, fudge, every kind of candy mixture; grind coffee; chip ice; chop meat, nuts, raisins; strain soup, puree, sauces; slice vegetables; freeze ice cream, ices, sherbets; and do other related things too numerous to mention.

All this is done by electricity at the turn of a switch. The cost is only about one cent an hour for electricity. The authorities say it is extremely easy to operate.

Requires Little Room

This remarkable machine is beautifully finished in French gray enamel. The mixing bowl, knives, choppers, etc. are of durable plated metal.

"KitchenAid" will fit easily into a space only 13 inches wide.

The KitchenAid Sales Agency will furnish full particulars about this remarkable machine to anyone who will mail the coupon below.

a floating dance floor. Haven't heard of it? Well, it's the newest thing, positively; only one in this part of the country.

Everything at popular prices and strictly first class and high class—suited to the taste of the best people—the always discriminating people of the North Shore.

That's the promise.

The Hay Loft idea has received the endorsement of Northwestern university authorities, the Evanston Woman's club and the Evanston Parent-Teacher association.

Super-Pictures Only, New Evanston's Policy

All the big pictures and super productions will be shown in Evanston at the New Evanston theater, Clyde Elliott president of the theater announced this week, advising Evanston people to do their movie shopping at home. "We not only show all the big pictures at the New Evanston," he said, "but our policy is to show nothing but big pictures. We will not use any second raters to fill in." He explained further that the super-productions will be shown in Evanston at the same time they are shown in Chicago, except for some cases where they may be shown a week later. The big pictures booked for the New Evanston for the six remaining weeks of this year are Gloria Swanson's "Stage-struck," Charlie Chaplin's "Gold Rush," Rudolph Valentino's "Cobra," D. W. Griffith's "That Royle Girl," Thomas Meighan's "Irish Luck," and Mary Pickford's "Little Annie Rooney."
