

Sunday Club Will Hear Immigrant Girl's Story

The Winnetka Sunday Evening club has just launched a series of discussions dealing with the immigration problem. Last Sunday evening Mrs. Charles T. Moon gave a talk on "Our Local Immigration Problem."

The club will be particularly fortunate Sunday, November 28, in that Miss Penka Casabera, a Bulgarian girl, is going to speak of her experiences on coming to America. Miss Casabera has taught two years in Bulgaria and will have much to tell the club, both, regarding her own country and the problems she has encountered in America.

Looking a week still farther ahead to December 4, the group is to have William Bryon, associate professor of sociology at Northwestern university. He will speak on "Our National Immigration Problem Policy."

Supper will be served as usual at 6:30 in the Camp Fire room of Community House. A hearty welcome and a pleasant evening are in store for those who appear at that time, it is promised.
