

To Depict Life of Women of Turkey at the Library Club

Demetra Vaka, a native of Constantinople, and also an author as well as lecturer, will be the next attraction at the Woman's Library Club of Glencoe, when, on Thursday, December 3, she will take as her lecture topic, "The Unveiled Ladies of Stamboul" with costumes. She is vivid and original in thought, dramatic and cogent in presentation, with a piquant accent and a talking personality.

Traveling frequently in the old world where she has entree into circles usually closed to westerners, she keeps in touch with the fascinating borderland between Europe and Asia whence spring so many obscure but potent forces which in one way or another influence the life of the West. "The Unveiled Ladies of Stamboul" will be a talk that will be concerned with Turkey, and the Turkish women in 1921, and in the new Turkey which has arisen.

Wanda Gauzzoni will give a lecture at the Hawthorn school, December 2.

HOLD ART EXHIBIT

From 2 until 6 o'clock on the afternoons of November 27, 28, and 29, the second annual exhibit of the work of the Ravinia Sketching class is being held in the Village House, Ravinia. Sunday afternoon tea will be served by the exhibiting artists. The public is cordially invited to view the attractive display, and there is no admission charge.

A GRAVE MISTAKE!

Many people look upon eye-strain as they would a cold. This is often a serious mistake.

It is true that a slight eye-strain is not serious, but it is also true that a slight strain neglected, will often develop into something more complicated—just as a cold neglected often results in pneumonia or something equally serious.

It is natural for anyone to object to wearing glasses—they are annoying, but in spite of this they are a wonderful blessing. Prolonging our usefulness and earning capacity for years after nature normally would call a halt—saving millions from nerve-racking headaches—from nerve exhaustion and ultimate breakdown—glasses are the greatest invention of all time. Appreciate good eyesight by caring for your eyes.
