

"Jazz Opera" Replaced by Japanese Production

Although the W. Franke Harling opera, "A Light from St Agnes", was scheduled as next of the season's novelties to be given production by the Chicago Civic Opera company, the "Saxophone Jazz opera" is very likely to be sidetracked in favor of Aldo Franchetti's "Namiko San" in which the charming Japanese soprano, Mme. Tamaki Miura, returns to the ranks of stellar Chicago singers. Strange as it may appear, certain similarities in requirements between "A Light From St Agnes" and "Die Walkeure" caused rehearsals of the former to be abandoned until the Wagnerian revival is made. In the interim rehearsals of the Japanese opera are going forward. Present schedules are promised on the assumption that the Franchetti opera will be sung on Friday, December 11; and the Harling work Wednesday, December 16. "Die Walkeure" will be pushed out of the way of both on Thursday night, December 3, leaving a free way for the novelties that are to be sung in English, including the two works named.

Mrs. Walter F. Shattuck, 338 Kenilworth avenue, entertained her bridge club for luncheon Tuesday.

The Rookwood Room

dedicated to the enjoyment of discriminating diners

THERE'S a quiet luxury about the Rookwood Room of the Library Plaza Cafeteria that grows in its appeal with every visit.

Nor is it merely by chance that the Rookwood Room has a lasting fascination. No fantastic decoration is here to tire the eye—the dignified good taste of soft pastel tones, of simple lines and interesting perspectives lighted by clusters of glowing lamps invites with a happy atmosphere that is cheerful, friendly, restful.

The excellence of Plaza cuisine, well known to thousands of diners, makes the Rookwood Room in every way a truly delightful rendezvous for the fastidious.

11 A. M. to 7:45 P. M.

LIBRARY PLAZA CAFETERIA

Orrington Ave., Just South of Church Street
in the Library Plaza Hotel

Where your Appetite Can Always "Find Its Way" to Happiness

Summer Comfort for All the Year

THERE will be cozy, even warmth in every room of this house, no matter how the mercury may drop, or how keen the blizzard blows. There's a in the basement, and its clean, economical heat will bring June-time comfort to all the family in every kind of weather.

HARDINGE Oil Burner

The Hardinge requires no further attention than the regulation of the thermostatic control. It's low in first cost and low in operating cost. Your neighbor has one — ask his opinion!

508 Davis St., Evanston
University 2132

[OIL BURNER and REFRIGERATING CO.]