

Realty Folk Foresee Biggest Convention at Tulsa Next Year

Hotel reservations are already being made for delegates to the 1926 convention of the National Association of Real Estate boards in Tulsa, Oklahoma, June 7 to 11.

California Realty brokers, anticipating the most widely attended convention of the national association, has planned a special train made up of several sections and has made reservations for delegates.

The California Real Estate association has sent messages to the Tulsa Real Estate board and the Oklahoma Real Estate association pledging its heartiest co-operation in arousing nation-wide interest and enthusiasm among member boards to attend.

The Amarillo, Texas, Real Estate board is already pledged to send its entire membership including their families and a big drum corps in an automobile caravan in order to keep the attendance cup which was won by this organization at the convention the National Association held in Detroit in 1925.

The Tulsa board has already rented four large rooms in a downtown building as an office for the convention committee and a staff of stenographers has been engaged to handle the preliminary correspondence. The committee is planning to house and entertain at least 6,000 delegates. Interest in the convention is not confined to real estate interests in Tulsa but is felt by men in many other lines of business as evidenced by the recent addition to the board of several hundred affiliated members who will further convention plans.

Students Begin Work on High School Year Book

New Trier High school students are busy preparing to publish their annual year book. Robert Kenyon has been appointed editor-in-chief and John Jewell has been named as business manager. The students are now beginning to collect material for the book which will be put on sale toward the end of the school year.

CAN'T BE DONE

There are massive locomotives now being built that cost more than $100,000 each, says the Los Angeles Times, and yet some fool driver of a Ford will think he can push one of them off of a crossing.

Model Homes Encourage Plans for Building Move

Following the formation of a National conference committee on Better Building by the National Association of Real Estate boards in which numerous other organizations interested in construction and finance are to be asked to co-operate, the work of this association to encourage home ownership finds support in a recent action of the American construction council, which plans, to erect model homes in cities throughout the United States to educate prospective home owners in the value of good construction.

Model homes are being constructed as part of a number of the home ownership expositions that are sponsored by real estate boards in their local cities.

Local Violinist Achieves Fame in Western Concerts

The recent joint recital of Milan Lusk, north shore violinist, and Allen McQuahae, tenor, found great favor throughout the Middle Western states, as newspaper reports in the various cities visited attest.

The Hibbing, Minn., Daily News, for example, says: "The speed and precision of Milan Lusk's finger work simply took one's breath away. His technical accomplishments are nothing short of marvelous." Other newspapers including the Grand Island (Neb.) Independent, Booneville (Mo.) Daily Republican, and the Nevada (Mo.) Daily Mail, were equally enthusiastic over Mr. Lusk's artistry.

The concert tour was conducted under direction of the Wolfsohn Bureau of New York.
