Postmaster Adams Makes Final Plea to Christmas Shoppers to be Prompt in Dispatching Holiday Packages

"Mail it now!"

That is the urgent appeal of Postmaster Elmer E. Adams to all Winnetka Christmas shoppers who are to utilize the facilities of the local postoffice in dispatching their holiday parcels.

Early shopping and prompt mailing go hand in hand, Mr. Adams points out. While early shopping materially lightens the task of the salespeople in the last days of the holiday rush, so also does early mailing make for greater efficiency in the handling of the vast amount of mail that passes through the postoffice at this season.

Along with this statement to the public goes the further happy information that Postmaster Adams has been recommended for reinstatement and will therefore continue his efficient supervision of the disposition of the Christmas rush of mails. Mr. Adams recently tendered his resignation to be effective December 19 and the Department at Washington announced a special examination for the position of Winnetka postmaster. In response to pressure brought to bear by his friends Mr. Adams decided to seek reappointment and the recommendation was soon forthcoming from headquarters at Washington.

Mr. Adams had planned to resume work in the railway mail service with which he was connected for more than 30 years.

Walter Spry of the Columbia School of Music entertained the North Shore "Spry Scolari" at a musicale and Christmas party at the college, Saturday afternoon, December 5.
