Over the After-dinner coffee

THE few moments of restful leisure following an enjoyable meal are one of the pleasurable events of lunching or dining. A quiet conversation and smoke before leaving for other appointments.

It is then that the guests of the Central Cafeteria are served with a second cup of coffee—with our compliments, that you may know we are appreciative of your visit and glad to have you remain as long as you wish.

The Central Cafeteria is so inviting in every way that haste, except for urgent reasons, is usually forgotten when you come here.
