Christine Heinig to Cooperate in Mothers' Course

Miss Christine Heinig of Hubbard Woods will co-operate with Miss Nina Kenagy and Miss Frances Kern in the course in Nursery School Education for Mothers given by the National Kindergarten and Elementary college this spring. Miss Heinig is in charge of the Nursery school in the Franklin school, Chicago, which is supported by the Woman's City club of Chicago.

The work in this Nursery school, the first to be included in the program of a public school in Chicago, is under the direction of Mrs. Alfred Alschuler of Winnetka, and many women on the north shore have been interested in the work Miss Heinig is doing there.

Miss Frances Kern has specialized in this field at Teachers' college, Columbia university, and Miss Nina Kenagy is director of the demonstration Nursery school of the National Kindergarten and Elementary college, Mary Crane Nursery, and Hull House. Miss Kenagy is an experienced kindergarten, and has had special work with Dr. Bird Baldwin of the Child Welfare Research station, University of Iowa.

Arrangements will be made so that mothers who are interested in the various courses, but are unable to attend for the entire period, may enter one or more of the 18 lectures.

Asks Special Rates So Englishmen May "Gossip"

Necessity is the mother of many queer inventions, and the necessity of waking up the people of England to the value of the telephone has led one Britisher to suggest that special "gossip rates" be introduced to popularize the general use of the telephone.

England lags far behind the United States in the matter of telephones, and though the system is owned and operated by the government, associations of private individuals are working to stimulate public interest in the telephone as a means of bettering the service.

The queer plan suggested above is but one of many emanating from private individuals who feel that England needs to know more about the telephone before better service can be looked for.

INCREASE PHONE SERVICE

Village President Orner was authorized this week to enter into a contract with the Illinois Bell Telephone company for the installation of an additional telephone trunk line in the Village hall exchange. Increase of Village business has necessitated the additional service, it was explained.

A. Woods of the North Shore Ice company has been ill with the grippe for several days, but is now able to resume his duties.
