

New Trier Faces a Crisis at the Primaries, April 13th

Shall New Trier interests be sacrificed because politicians choose your candidates?

The Crowe-Barrett-Thompson faction, not satisfied with its control of city politics, is trying to force its candidates upon the country towns.

The crisis is here—the country towns must elect men who have shown by their service in the past that they will work for the interests of the country towns and not for a political faction.

Vote for these men!
