

Returning Voyagers Have Eventful Passage Home

A letter from New York to our desk brings news of the return to America of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Yates of Winnetka, and of their eventful and stormy voyage across the Atlantic on the Mauretania. Upon receiving an S. O. S. from a sinking freighter, the ship broke all of her own speed records making 29 knots on hour in an endeavor to reach the wreck, but arrived to find that another ship nearer by had picked up the crew.

The Mauretania resumed her course to New York arriving there minus part of her forward rails, and with pilot house and bridge damaged in the storm of March the 31, when two large waves went entirely over the ship compelling the captain to reduce his speed.

Don Yates, who attends Thorp Military academy, met his father and mother at the dock and returned with them to their home at 610 Ash street, Friday.
