Friedlund residence property, 1235 Scott avenue Winnetka, which is to be redecorated throughout, for occupancy by the new owner the latter part of this month. The sale was made by Charles R. Norman, of the real estate firm of Kroll & Smith, 419 Fourth street, Wilmette.

GIVES DANCE FOR BRIDE

Miss Elizabeth Hanna of Kenilworth will be hostess at a dance at the Opera club Wednesday, April 21, in honor of Miss Elizabeth Campbell, who is to be married to Edward Sutherland Clark Saturday, April 24. Miss Hanna is one of the bridesmaids in the wedding party.

Mrs. Andrew John Kreger of Drexel avenue, Glencoe, has been visiting her daughter Mrs. G. Elemendorff Phillips, of Madison, Wis. Mrs. Phillips was the former Marguerite G. Kreger, well known on the north shore for her dramatic work. She has been directing the spring play, "Mother Carey's Chickens," which the Catholic Woman's club of Madison presented April 13.

Famed Artists Will Appear in Music Festival

The North Shore Music Festival, which will open at Evanston, May 24, will bring forward some of the most interesting music and some of the most brilliant soloists in its history, it is announced. Peter C. Lutkin, who has been the musical director of the festival since its beginning in 1909, has chosen Mendelssohn's Hymn of Praise, and Hadley's, "The New Earth," for the first program. A Tchaikowsky night will follow the next evening and Ossip Gabrilowitsch will be the soloist in the Russian master's piano concerto.

Giovanni Martinelli, tenor, well known to north shore residents who have taken their artistic pleasure at Ravinia Park, will appear at the third concert, May 27, in three arias, and Sylvia Lent, one of Auer's most gifted pupils, will be heard on the violin at the Young People's matinee, May 29. Mr. Lutkin and his 600 choristers will interpret the great German Requiem by Brahms, as well as Parker's "Gloria in Excelsis" at the fifth concert, May 31. Mabel Garrison and Boris Saslawsky will be the soloists.

The final concert, June 1, will bring forward Dusolina Giannini and Lawrence Tibbett as soloists and among the orchestral pieces there will be heard the work which will have won the prize of $1,000 offered by the festival association to the American composer who the judges have decided has written the best symphonic score of five which will have been tried out at a public rehearsal, May 29.

Frederick Stock will conduct all the orchestral works and the orchestra will be, as usual, the Chicago Symphony.

Mrs. S. F. McKenney, 752 Foxdale avenue, left last Saturday for Washington, D. C., to visit her son who is attending the Dominican Order. She expects to be gone about two weeks. On her way home Mrs. McKenney will stop at Atlantic City to visit a sister.
