Saving 5,000 Years Ago and Today

SAVING was a difficult thing with the earliest man. Yet he did save—it was one of his first steps toward civilization. The skins and grain that he saved were not very safe and they did not earn for him.

Today you can save easily and safely at this Bank. And interest will make your money grow for you.

Five thousand years ago or today—the principle is the same. You must save to get ahead. Begin now at this Bank.
