

Paper Sets Forth Aims of Religious Education

A recent issue of The Congregationalist contains an interesting and instructive article by Dr. Herbert W. Gates, secretary of the Congregational Education society, under the caption, "Education for Participation in World Affairs." It embodies a splendid resume of the proceedings of the meeting of the Religious Education association at Toronto, March 9 to 12, which was attended by Dr. J. W. F. Davies, of the Winnetka Congregational church.

In the report of the committee on findings, the objects of the association are set forth as follows:

"The Religious Education association seeks to inspire the educational forces of our country with the religious ideal; to inspire the religious forces of our country with the educational ideal; and to keep before the public mind the ideal of religious education, and the sense of its need and value. The annual convention is organized to provide an opportunity for free discussion of the basic principles involved in religious education, with the object of creating and criticizing methods to be employed."

The bridesmaids will be Miss Emilie Hoyt, a cousin, and Miss Virginia Wilson, sister of the bridegroom; Miss Ruth Keeley, Miss Dorothy Curtis, Miss Florence Addington, and Mrs. Allen Humphreys of Pittsburgh.

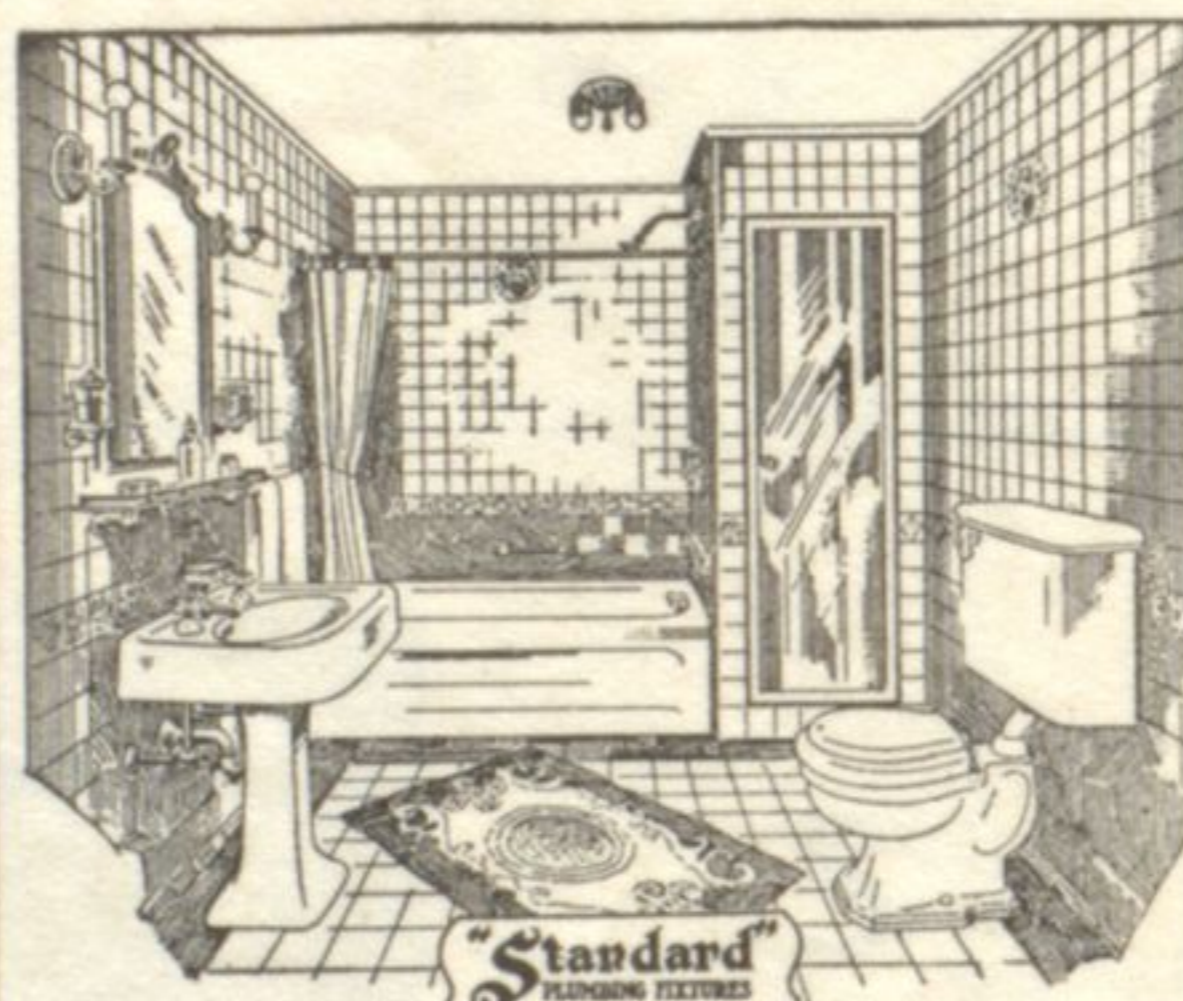

The marriage service is to be read at St. Chrysostom's church at 5 o'clock in the afternoon, and will be followed by a reception at the Casino.

PLAY AIDS ORPHANAGE

Rehearsals are going forward steadily on "A Pair of Sixes," the next production of the Wilmette Opera and Drama club, which will be staged May 5, 6 and 7 at the Byron Stolp school. The play is being presented under the auspices of the Methodist Deaconess orphanage at Lake Bluff, to which the proceeds will go. A strong cast has been selected for this clever comedy and a pleasing production is assured.

VILLAGE COUNCIL ACTS TO ACCEPT WAR CANNON

in procuring these cannon have been challenged, and their actions in so doing have been bitterly and publicly criticised.

The Legion, having in mind the time honored American tradition of mounting captured cannon in public places as war memorials, secured for a presumably grateful community a field gun, a howitzer, and a trench mortar. They intend to present them to the village as emblematic of the heroic sacrifice of their comrades who were killed during the war with Germany.

Symbols of Sacrifice

"For ages, people have been accustomed to the use of symbols. The cross is recognized as the symbol of the saddest and most glorious sacrifice of all time, and yet the cross itself was the most cruel instrument of torture ever devised by man.

"Cannon are not beautiful, nor are they, except in a limited sense, ornamental. But, by tradition and because of their history, they recall the courage and devotion of men who dared face them in battle and laid down their lives for their country.

"There is room for considerable difference of opinion as to their proper location, but as a constant reminder, to children as well as adults, of those who made possible our present peaceful and happy condition, they have their place in any community,—not as symbols of hell but as symbols of patriotic sacrifice."
