

Annual Reports of the Woman's Society Show Fine Progress

(Contributed)

Sometimes annual reports are the bugbears which people avoid. Not so with those of the Woman's society given Wednesday, May 5. After three delightful musical numbers of Mrs. Floyd Little Bartlett's played by Mrs. Donald Morrison Mrs. Brewer, and Mrs. Bartlett, short and snappy reports within their time limit of four minutes followed, and revealed a marvellous amount of work accomplished, and promised interesting projects for next year.

The society has continued its home sewing, and now takes on a school teacher of its own in India, under the direction of Clarence Wolsted. It is contemplating a definite unit of work in China, under the Reynolds, and takes now specific responsibilities in connection with its mission, "Onward," in Chicago. Every woman of the church is, or should be, a member of this great and worthwhile organization, the channel through which all kinds of talent and goodwill may function.

At the close of the afternoon, the newly-elected officers were called to the front and introduced by the retiring president, Mrs. David Lasier:

Mrs. Wiley J. Huddle, president; Mrs. Albert Smith, first vice-president; Mrs. Frank T. Crawford, second vice-president; Mrs. Ralph M. Snyder, recording secretary; Mrs. Heber Smith, corresponding secretary; Mrs. W. O. Kurtz, treasurer; committees: Mrs. Arlan W. Converse, work; Mrs. Frederick B. Thomas, luncheons; Mrs. A. J. Boynton, world friendship; Mrs. J. A. Richards, flower; Mrs. Percival Hunter, social; Mrs. Arthur Barrett, financial; Mrs. Roswell Mason, program; Mrs. Ralph S. Childs, house; Mrs. Carrie B. Prouty, circles; Mrs. Thomas A. Goodwin, Mrs. Paul Macqueene and Mrs. Charles T. Moon, members at large.
