Hugo von Hofsten Wins New Honor With Canvas

Hugo von Hofsten's "Skokie River" painting received the water color prize at the recent annual Swedish-American art exhibition at the Swedish club in Chicago.

This attractive painting is now on exhibition at the Duncan Studios in Winnetka, together with many other examples of Mr. von Hofsten's work.

Dr. John Lepine, distinguished neurologist and dean of the faculty of medicine of the University of Lyons, France, accompanied by Professor A. Policard, professor of histology at Lyons, and Paul Bellemain, architect of the university, have just visited the medical laboratories and clinical floors of the Montgomery Ward Medical-Dental building now under construction on the McKinlock memorial campus of Northwestern university.

Need Chairs for Commencement Day; They Get 'em, Too

Through the efforts of Kathryn Smith, president of College Council of the National Kindergarten and Elementary college, and the ready co-operation of the members of the council, parents and friends of the students may hope for comfortable seats for the festival, commencement and other events to be staged in the new auditorium of the college during Commencement and Home-Coming week, June 4 to 10.

The council presented, most dramatically, an original playlet entitled, "Gee, we ain't got no chairs for our auditorium." The lack of chairs and the need for chairs were made equally evident and everyone agreed that "to sit on the floor is a terrible bore."

The information that the chairs would cost $5 each and that nearly 800 were required was offset by the fact that the House committee of the Governing board had already accepted the responsibility for securing between 300 and 400 and the alumnae 200, leaving only 250 to be provided. Miss Smith then told the students of the plan suggested by College council, whereby each class would be responsible for the sale of a certain number of chairs.

The conclusion of her remarks was lost in a clamour of "I want one," "Put me down for two," "Three in the front row for me." The Senior class purchased the first two rows of the middle section and overflowed into the third. The faculty took the two rows on right and left, the Juniors have under written the next ninety-five seats and the Freshmen ninety-nine, and if the Governing board and the alumnae do as well there will be no cause for worry.

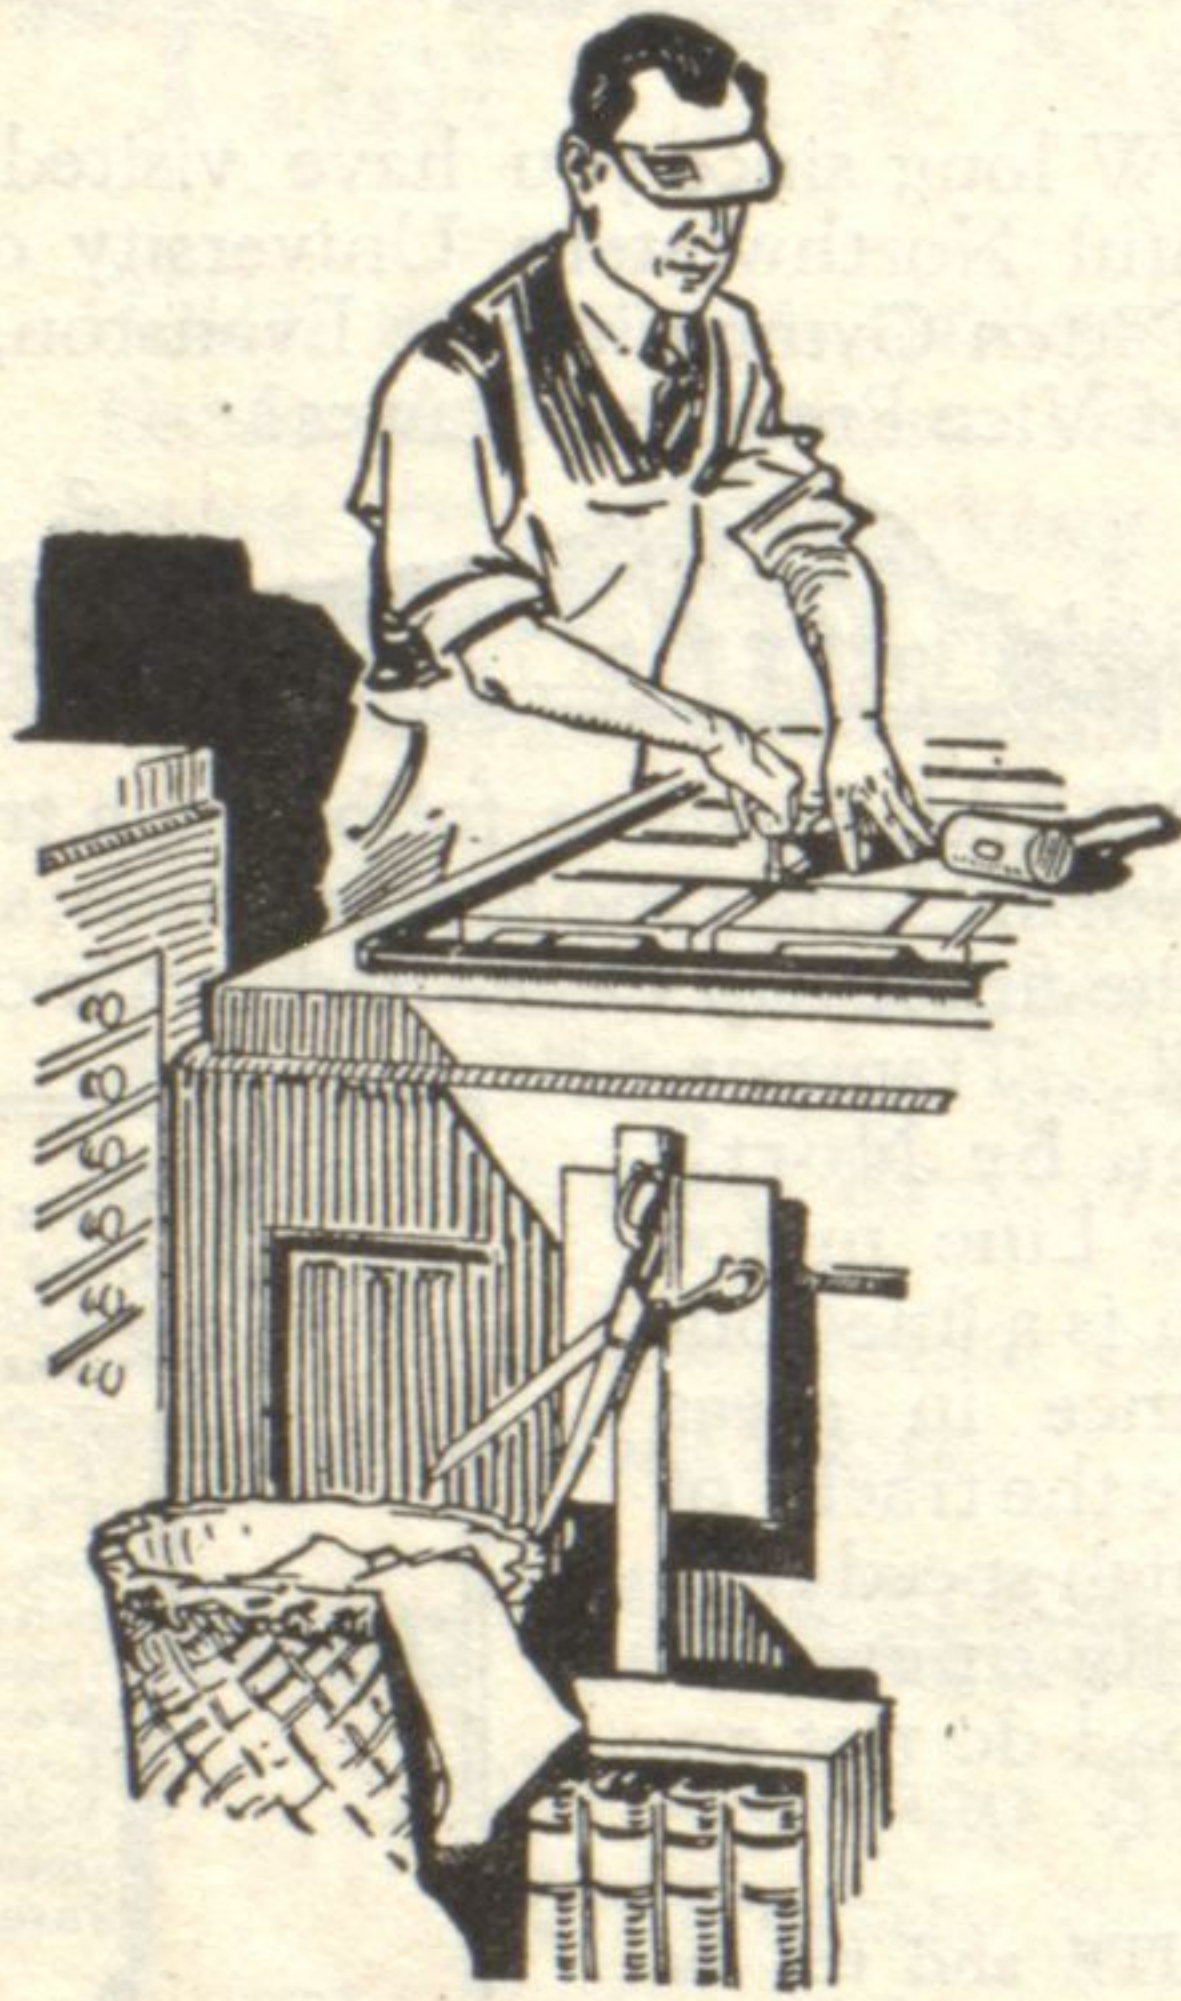

"Lest Commencement, mid laughter,
Find our guests on a rafter,
Or down on the floor—
A terrible bore."

Young Men's Class to Play Ball on Thursday

Thursday evening, May 20, the Young Men's class of the Congregational church school will have the second of its baseball games in the Lake Front park, Sheridan and Maple. Play starts at 6:30, and continues until the game is "called on account of darkness." All young men over the high school age are welcome.

Sunday, May 16, the class will discuss "How Should a Christian Spend Sunday?" The class meets at 10 o'clock in the North Neighborhood room of the Community House.
