ALPHA PHI BENEFIT
 A benefit bridge will be given for the benefit of the Alpha Phi house fund at the Evanston Country club Tuesday, May 25, under the auspices of the Chicago Alumnae association.

Mrs. C. M. Cheney of Evanston entertained a number of Delta Gammas on May 19, at a personal shower in honor of Miss Frances Helmkamp of Rogers Park.

Autopsy Proves Coal Gas Was Not Cause of Death

Mrs. Margaret Lasson, 46 years old, a cook in the home of Franklin Rudolph, 745 Sheridan road, died last Saturday under circumstances which at first led police to believe that she was suffering from the effects of coal gas, from the furnace of the house. An autopsy by the coroner's physician disclosed the fact that acute Bright's disease was the cause of her death, according to Mrs. Rudolph. The latter said that trouble had been experienced with the furnace the previous day, when rain had caused soot in the chimney to stop the draft. She said that there had been some coal gas in the house and that other members of the family had felt the effects of it, but only slightly. Mrs. Lasson was a resident of Alberta, Ala., where a husband and three children survive her. Three maids in the household, Ruth Cederberg, Hildus Anderson and Emeline Excilly, were said to have felt the effects of the gas, as well as Mrs. Rudolph and her son and daughter. Dr. Frank W. Blatchford attended them.

Mother's Home Is Scene of Wedding Ceremony

The marriage of Miss Helen Voltz, daughter of Mrs. Martha Voltz, 814 Elm street, to Austin Cazel, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Cazel of Oak street, took place at the home of her mother Monday, May 17, at 3 o'clock. The Rev. Thomas Goodwin, reading the service.

Miss Viola Voltz, sister of the bride, and Harold Voltz, brother of the bride, were the only attendants. A reception followed the ceremony.

After a short trip in the south, the young couple will be at home to their friends after June 1, at 882 Spruce street.

Olivia Fentress Marries Today at Her Father's Home

One of the early summer weddings will take place this afternoon at the residence of James Fentress on Sheridan road when his daughter, Olivia, becomes the bride of Herman A. L. Behlen of New York City. Miss Louise Fentress will attend her sister as maid of honor and George Masson of Windsor, Canada, will be the best man.

The bride will wear a gown of ivory satin fashioned in very simple style with a rather full skirt, long tight sleeves, and a round net yoke, above which she will wear a string of pearls. The veil, held in place by a wreath of orange blossoms and hanging from the back of the head, is bordered with a wide strip of deep ivory lace, which has come down in the bride's mother's family for three generations. The bridal bouquet, consisting of old-fashioned white roses, white sweet peas, and valley lillies, surrounded by maiden-hair fern and lace paper, will be tied with long loops of white gauze and satin ribbon.

In contrast to the white and ivory gown and bouquet of the bride, is the graceful chiffon dress of light corn flower blue which the bridesmaid will wear and the variegated bouquet of old-fashioned flowers tied with silver ribbon, which she will carry.

After the wedding, which will be solemnized by the Rev. James Austin Richards, there will be a large reception at the Fentress residence.

Their Early Years determine foot health

THE PURPOSE of the shoe is to give protection to the foot. But positive injury results from shoes that are improperly fitted.

Healthy young feet remain healthy in the right shoes, preventing the need for "appliance" shoes later in life. Correct fitting is better than corrective footwear.

We fit the growing foot "according to prescription," with the same expert care that the oculist gives to the fitting of lenses.

A score of our patrons come more than a hundred miles to this unique shop that is at your very door.

More than a hundred years of experience at your service here. Our creed: a perfect fit for growing feet. "Almost" will not do.

Just Right

FOLKS like things that are "just so," especially in the matter of good things to eat.

Little wonder, then, that Central Cafeteria is so popular with everyone, for here "the best" is more than a catchword.

Beauty Lies in Healthy EYES

It's not so much the size or color of the EYES that makes them beautiful. Rather, it's the glow which radiates from them. Unless kept always clean and healthy, EYES lack this alluring lustre.

Millions of women throughout the world promote EYE health and beauty with Murine. It cleanses EYES of irritating particles and keeps them clear and bright. Contains no belladonna.

Our illustrated books on "Eye Care" or "Eye Beauty" are FREE on request.
