Country Day Grads Go to College 100 Per Cent Next Fall

The present seniors at the North Shore Country Day school, Winnetka, have, without exception, expressed their intention of carrying on their education at institutions of higher learning. The preference of the boys at present runs as follows:

Frank Blatchford, John Davis and Everett L. Millard, Jr., Harvard.

Edward Hamm and Henry Stein, Dartmouth.

Edmond Hoskin, Illinois.

William Nicholls, Cornell.

Joseph Page, Princeton.

Though one or two are looking with some favor upon the idea of a year at a large Eastern preparatory school, before entering their university work, nearly all intend to enter college in the fall.

Four out of five of the senior girls, Marion Alschuler, Susan Burlingham, Maxine Lichtenstein and Barbara Rose, form a compact block with inclinations towards Vassar.

Dorothy Reach, who graduates this year without having taken in the middler grade, the extra year of study which Women colleges for the sake of the increased maturity it affords are now so generally advising, plans to enter Ely school and later Principia college.

HOLD JUNIOR PROM

As The Winnetka Talk goes to press, the Junior Prom of the North Shore Country Day school is being held, Friday, June 11, in the gymnasium on the college grounds.
