

LIBERTY BELL TO OPEN GREAT PATRIOTIC MEET

Many North Shore People to Attend Sesqui-Centennial Program in Chicago July 5

The Liberty bell, which rang out the tidings of the adoption of the Declaration of Independence in 1776, in the quaint old Independence Hall on Chestnut street, Philadelphia, will sonorously toll on Monday July 5, at exactly eleven minutes after eleven o'clock in the morning, which is the time the Declaration was signed. Its peals, transmitted to Chicago by wire, will open the meeting in the gold ballroom of the Hotel LaSalle, where the Daughters of the American Revolution will celebrate the 150th anniversary of the signing of the Declaration of Independence. This opens a week of celebration in Chicago, which is in conjunction with the Sesqui-Centennial International exposition in Philadelphia.

The demonstration in Chicago will be addressed by Secretary of Labor Davis, and Vice-President Dawes. The French Consul will be a guest of honor, in commemoration of the aid the French gave during the Revolution. The stirring poem, "Your Flag and My Flag," by Nesbit, will be read by the author, himself. The Great Lakes band is scheduled to play, and all the ushers and pages will be frocked in colonial garb.

The Daughters of the American Revolution, who are planning this event, consist of the Chicago and suburban chapters. A former resident of Glencoe, Mrs. Louise F. Hopkins, is regent of the Chicago chapter, and is chairman of the entire celebration. Mrs. Melville C. Chatten of Winnetka is a regent of the Kaskaskia chapter. Other chapters participating are the North Shore chapter, Fort Dearborn chapter, Gen. Henry Dearborn chapter, DeWalt Muhlen chapter, Skokie chapter and the George Rogers Clarke chapter.

Many Groups to Attend

The patriotic societies to be represented and honored at this demonstration are the Mayflower society, the Colonial Dames, the Patriots and Founders, the New England society, the Sons of the American Revolution, the Sons of the Revolution, the G. A. R., the Spanish War Veterans, the Daughters of the Confederacy, the American Legion, the Government club, the Military Intelligence association, the Boy Scouts, the Girl Scouts and the Camp Fire Girls. Soldiers from the Speedway hospital will be guests. This will be an enthusiastic patriotic gathering of real Americans, and all real Americans are invited to attend.

The old Liberty bell, it will be remembered, was originally cast in England, but on its arrival in Philadelphia, a crack developing, it was recast. It was in use from 1753 to 1835, when the fracture now seen occurred while it was being tolled upon the occasion of the funeral of Chief Justice Marshall. The inscription on the bell, from Leviticus XXV, "Proclaim liberty through all the land to all the inhabitants thereof," was also on the bell cast in England. It is especially significant in view of the history of the bell.

The pictures of two of Winnetka's brides, Mrs. George Shipman (Audrey Stixrud) and Mrs. Charles Francis Pearce, Jr., (Katherine Wortley) appearing in recent issues of WINNETKA TALK were taken by Stanton Wilhite.

Miss Elizabeth Knode has returned from the Westover school, Middlebury, Conn., and is spending the summer with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Oliver M. Knode, 681 Lincoln avenue.

McCormick Boulevard Opening Is Delayed for Another Month

Delay in the construction of the subway for McCormick boulevard under the North Western railroad near Oakton street, Evanston, has forced postponement of the opening of the boulevard until late in July or early August, it was announced this week.

Sanitary District engineers who constructed the boulevard had made plans to open the thoroughfare July 1 all the way from its northern extremity at Railroad avenue to the southern end at Devon avenue in Chicago.

All is now in readiness for throwing the boulevard open to motorists with the exception of the subway at Oakton. This work has been held up by the railroad company and is not expected to be completed until the latter part of July.

In the meantime, sanitary district engineers are placing signs along the boulevard for the direction of motorists. Stop signs have been installed at all street intersections and other traffic placards have been placed.
