Farms Now in Demand for Acreage Estates

Our farmers may "holler" about there being no money in farming, raising hog, etc., but why farm any more? The demand for north and north-west farms for country estates within a radius of twenty to forty miles of the north shore is steadily increasing though prices on good acreage may be jumping, declare Hokanson and Jenks, Inc., north shore real estate operators. The acreage department of the firm reports in the vicinity of Glenview, with its many fine Golf clubs, there are under construction several magnificent mansions that will compare favorably with the stately homes of rural England.

Chicagoan to Occupy Residence in Wilmette

A. C. Julian, contractor of 4746 North Hermitage avenue, Chicago, is building for J. W. Weiss, of the firm of Weiss and Niestadt, of 73 West Jackson boulevard, a beautiful six-room frame house at 125 Dupee place, Wilmette.
