

NORTHWESTERN GETS NAVAL RESERVE CORPS

One of Six Schools Throughout the Country to Get Naval R. O. T. C. Training

By arrangements with the United States Navy, a training corps for Naval Reserve officers is to be established at Northwestern university, Evanston campus, with the opening of the fall term. The government is now creating six such naval training corps at the following institutions:

Harvard, Yale, Georgia Tech., University of Washington, University of California, and one, between the east and west coasts, at Northwestern university.

A feature that will appeal to the public will be the fact that sports activities are to be encouraged among the N.U. jacksies. The university already has an army R.O.T.C. unit and games of all sorts between the army and the navy will be featured at Northwestern, according to an announcement by President Walter Dill Scott.

Sixty freshmen from the incoming class at Northwestern will be invited to take the new naval training course. This done, they will be furnished with boats and other naval equipment and will be in charge of a special detail of regular U. S. navy officers.

Will Have Ship

In the summer, a navy training ship will be furnished for the N.U. jacksies for an extended summer cruise, the students to help in managing the boat. The new naval course will be of four years' duration and at the close of the course the graduating tars will be given commissions in the reserve corps of the U. S. Navy.

"By formal action of the Northwestern university board of trustees and of the faculty, the offer of the United States Navy to establish a training corps on our Evanston campus has been accepted," said President Scott. "I wish to express special thanks to Captain Hines, commandant of the Great Lakes Training station, and to Captain W. D. Pulester, chief of the training division in charge of Naval R.O.T.C. units at Washington, D.C., for their cordial and generous co-operation in working out the details of the problem at Northwestern. What they have told me indicates that the establishment of the only students' naval unit between the Atlantic and Pacific coasts at Northwestern university will be a splendid thing, both for our students and for all Middle Western boys who will be interested in such a technical course in the future."

Dr. Scott added that the army R.O.T.C. officers and men will co-operate with the naval corps in a program of training and athletics, and that this feature already has been discussed.

"It will be interesting to see on the campus of a Middle Western university in the near future the blue of the navy as well as the khaki of the United States army," Dr. Scott concluded.

Miss Cornelia Keith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Keith, 310 Warwick road, Kenilworth, motored to Appleton, Wis., with her fiance, Cleon Larsen, and his two sisters, to visit Mr. Larsen's parents. From Appleton they continued to Big Lake to the Keith's summer home.

Mrs. W. V. Merriman, 140 Euclid avenue, Glencoe, left recently for Reading, Pa., where she joined Mr. Merriman, to spend the entire summer. Mr. and Mrs. Merriman have sold their home to George A. Fraley of Rogers Park, who has already taken possession of the house. Mr. and Mrs. Merriman expect to return to Winnetka about October 1.

Hub's Evanston Store Announces First Sale

George Lytton, vice-president of the Hub, Henry C. Lytton and Sons, stated yesterday in announcing the first clearance sale at the Evanston shop, "Our clearance sales have always meant a great deal to our patrons for one important reason: We always aim to maintain complete assortments throughout the season, in fact, right up to the last minute. So, in these different events you will find selections of the most desirable merchandise of the season at prices that represent very decisive savings.

"As we believe we have introduced a new standard of variety, quality and service in Evanston—so now we will attempt to establish a precedent in value-giving clearance sales. We expect them to still further demonstrate our clear-cut desire to maintain a well deserved and undisputed leadership.

"You may depend upon it, this first sale in our new Evanston shop will be worth while."

During July and August, the Hub, in Evanston, will remain open Saturday evenings only.
