PLAN BUFFALO HUNT

Carload of Animals Coming for Celebration and Jubilee on Old Sauk Trail

The largest shipment of buffalo that ever came into Cook county will be received at Richton Park, Illinois, this week. The animals are coming to the suburb under the auspices of the Richton Park Regional Development association to be used in that association's part in the celebration of the completion of the south side electrification and Illinois Central railroad's diamond jubilee. There will be a whole carload, twelve head, all bulls, purchased from the Wainwright ranch at Bashaw, Canada, through the courtesy of the Canadian government.

The buffalo will be used by the association to stage "the last buffalo hunt on the Old Sauk Trail" in their historical pageant which will be given twice daily beginning Sunday, July 25, and ending Sunday August 1. The buffalo will be "hunted" by a band of 50 Chippewa Indians on their ponies. One will be killed each day and the meat prepared for sandwiches which are to be dispensed during the celebration. C. W. Irwin, well known chef, and long experienced in the roasting of buffalo meat, will have charge of the barbecue.

Because of the great strength of buffalo, it is impossible to ship them as other cattle. Each one is given a separate crate built of two-inch planking. Dr. J. L. Himrod of the Chicago Historical society, who has gone to Canada to personally accompany the buffalo to Richton Park, has had a great deal of experience in handling these supposedly extinct species.

Buffalo Increase

"While a few years ago, there were comparatively few buffalo left in the United States, there are a number of ranches in the West which have made a specialty of breeding the animals," he says. "There is a large one in California with a thousand buffalo, and another large herd in Montana, but the largest buffalo ranch in America is at Bashaw, Canada, where there are now more than 40,000 head. The owners of the ranch therefore are beginning to have a problem each year of disposing of their surplus bulls. And it is thus possible to bring a taste of this little known meat to the hundreds of thousands in Chicago who never dreamed of having it.

"Buffalo meat, when properly prepared, is a real delicacy. Few people really know how to prepare it, but C. E. Irwin is one of the few, and there is a treat in store for everyone who gets one of the buffalo sandwiches."

A five acre paddock is nearing completion on the Old Sauk Trail at Richton Park to hold the buffalo and afford ample space to stage the hunt. Ordinary cattle fence does not suffice. It is heavy park fence fastened securely to posts set in solid concrete. At one side is a hole in the ground to be filled with water, for the buffalo will not drink out of the customary stock fountains. On their trip to Richton Park from Canada, they will be watered by means of a hose forced down their throats.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Coleman Crowell of 770 Humboldt avenue, announce the birth of a daughter, Mary Coleman Crowell, on Tuesday morning, July 13, at the Evanston hospital.

Mrs. G. D. Cowin, 32 Warwick avenue, Kenilworth, entertained several friends of Mr. Cowin's at a stagg dinner Tuesday night.

Mrs. E. H. Ball, Jr., 361 Hawthorn lane, has just returned to Winnetka after a week's stay at Harbor Point, Mich.
