

Complete Razing of Old Village Hall This Week

Work on the new fire station is progressing according to schedule and the wrecking of the building to the necessary extent has been completed, according to an announcement by Village Manager H. L. Woolhiser this week. The construction work is now starting and is expected to go forward quickly.

The contractor in charge of the work reports that there is still a quantity of wood suitable for kindling which residents may have if they care to call for it. There is also a quantity of old plaster and broken bricks which can be used for filling purposes which will be given away and some face brick in good condition which is for sale.

During the building of the new station the firemen are housed in a temporary structure to the east of the station. The building is to be completed before the coming of winter to house the new fire truck which has been ordered and will be delivered soon.
