POPULAR OPERAS FILL WEEK'S RAVINIA BILL.

Demand for Third Performance of "La Vida Breve" Prom- ised for Monday Night

So insistent has been the demand for a third performance of "La Vida Breve," Michael De Falla's celebrated Spanish opera which has taken two Ravinia audiences by storm, that Louis Eckstein has decided to give a special presentation of this work on Monday night, August 16, instead of the regular concert of the Chicago Symphony orchestra scheduled for that date. This will be the second time this season that it has been necessary to give extra performances at Ravinia, which is a fair indication of the intense interest which is being taken in Ravinia opera this year. During the coming week two operas, which which have not been given this season, will be brought to performance, these being "Pagliacci" which holds high place in the regard of all opera lovers, and "La Navarraise" one of the most dramatic of the French works. The remainder of the week's repertoire will consist of works which have been chosen with the breadth of public taste in view from among the offerings which have proved their popularity to an unusual degree.

The new week will begin on Sunday afternoon, August 15, with a concert by the Chicago Symphony orchestra under the direction of Mr. De Lamar. All seats are free for these concerts.

"Andrea Chenier" Sunday

Sunday night, August 15, "Andrea Chenier" is to be presented with Giovanni Martinelli in the title role, a part which he sang for the first time in his career last week and in which he was so brilliantly successful as to leave no doubt of the soundness of the predictions of those who were of the opinion that this role would be a masterful addition to his repertoire. Mme. Elisabeth Rethberg, who as Madeleine completely won her audience by the sheer beauty of her voice and the thrilling manner of her dramatic interpretation will again have this role and Giuseppe Danise, who finds Gerrard one of the greatest parts of his repertoire, will be cast as the revolutionist. Others in the cast are Mme. Bourskaya, Miss Paggi, Mr. Defrere, Mr. D'Angelo, Mr. Mojica, Mr. Ananian and Mr. Derman. Mr. Papi will conduct.

The special performance of "La Vida Breve" announced for Monday night, August 16, will again bring to the Ravinia stage the same cast which has made this melodious and atmospheric work one of the outstanding features of the season. Mme. Lucre-
