KNOW ILLINOIS

Between six and seven thousand freight cars are handled daily over the 160 miles of switching track at Galesburg.

During the 75 years Chicago has had gas at its disposal, service has never been suspended, not even during the great Chicago fire.

More than 50,000 persons annually visit the dome of the State Capital at Springfield, making the 100-foot climb up the circular staircases.

Illinois' electric customers, standing hand to hand would form a line from Chicago to El Paso, Texas.

Illinois was populated by approximately 20,000 indians when the French first entered the land. The Illini were the original dwellers and Checaugua was their most famous chief.

A new world's record for hoisting and loading coal was recently set at Commonwealth Edison company's mine Number 6, located at Sherman, when 5,137 tons were hoisted and loaded into 126 railroad cars in eight hours.

With less than 6 per cent of the country's population, Illinois' investment in public utilities represents 8 per cent of the total for the country.

One of the first papers established in the States was the Spectator, at Edwardsville, in 1819. It is not now in existence.

Let Contracts for Rolling
Green Country Clubhouse

H. B. Wheelock, architect of the proposed Rolling Green Country club, states that the building committee has closed contracts for the erection of the $100,000 clubhouse. It will be on Rand road, Arlington Heights. President W. J. S. Ritscher expects to have the building ready for December festivities. Many north shore people are interested in the new club.
