Eats Apple Pie at Ford Plant

Mrs. Isabel Richardson Molter, soprano, returning from her recent trip through New England, stopped in Detroit long enough to make a "foot tour" of the Ford plant. She was offered a workman's lunch, which she fully enjoyed, judging from the smile accompanying the generous piece of pie.

Mrs. Molter will spend the remainder of the summer in Wilmette preparing her program for the coming season, which promises to be a busy one. On her list of engagements are two recitals, one at Aeolian Hall in New York City on October 10, and the second at Jordan Hall in Boston on January 13. For the spring of 1927, a southern tour is planned, which will take the singer through Iowa, Mississippi, and Tennessee.

Mr. and Mrs. Molter live at 325 Central avenue, Wilmette. Mr. Molter often accompanies his wife at the piano.
