

Plan Extension of New M'Cormick Rd. Devon to Lincoln

Extension of McCormick boulevard from Devon avenue its present terminus, to Lincoln avenue along the north shore channel is proposed in the plans set forth this week by E. J. Kelly, chief engineer of the Sanitary district. Mr. Kelly announced that the four and a half mile stretch would be open in September.

The continuation of the road from Devon to Lincoln would provide outlets to the southeast and northwest. The project would cost about $25,000 according to Mr. Kelly.

Should such an expansion take place on the south terminus of the new highway it is considered likely that the sanitary district officials will take steps to extend the north terminus through the North Western tracks where the road enters West Railroad avenue. This terminus of the new highway is expected to prove a problem as soon as the south end is opened.

Evanston officials are skeptical as to whether Railroad avenue will be able to handle the great amount of motor traffic which will turn into it as soon as the south end of the highway is opened.

All but about a strip of 1,000 feet at Howard street, where the Chicago and North Western railroad crosses McCormick road, has been completed by the workmen.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry W. Mons, 157 Woodstock avenue, left August 15, to spend ten days at Camp Big Horn, Wyo., where their son, Elwood, has been with Mr. Nygaard's group of boys from Kenilworth and Oak Park. They will go to Yellowstone Park by way of Cody, Wyo., and return by way of Salt Lake City, Colorado Springs, and Denver. Mr. Mons' parents of Rogers Park are occupying the Mons residence during the family's absence.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert S. Smith and daughter, Miss Dorothy, of 324 Cumnor road, have returned from a motor trip to northern Wisconsin.

Long Distance Calls Timed With Sand Glass

With the canvassing of customers in distant parts by means of the telephone becoming a recognized commercial practice, a novel long distance telephone economy has appeared.

Salesmen of one concern are furnished with a small minute sand glass which they reverse as soon as telephonic contact with the client has been established.

By this means they are able to regulate their calls so that full advantage is taken of every second, and the extra three-minute charge for a sentence or two is avoided. The glass is said to have been found much more convenient and less distracting than the second hand of a watch.

Mrs. Maurice A. Nathan and son, 900 Oak street, are taking a trip through Canada. They have been in Ontario, and will return in about three weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Williams and daughters, Helen and Florence, of 850 Cherry street, accompanied by Mrs. William's sister, Mrs. H. Roberts, are spending a week at the Dells.
