

For Your PLEASURE!

Ye Olde Haylofte

GROVE STREET, CORNER OF SHERMAN

OPENS SATURDAY, SEPT. 4th

Phone Your Reservations
GREENLEAF 140

Starting Sunday, September 5th

Popular Dollar Dinner will be Served from 12:00 to 9:00 P. M.

8 Courses

MUSIC

MUSIC

Autumn Fashion Revue

Our first presentation of the newest and authentic Feminine Apparel for Autumn will be staged at the Alcyon Theatre, Highland Park, four evenings at 7:30 and 9:30 P. M., beginning Monday, August 30.

If unable to attend this distinctive style exhibit, you are invited to visit our formal autumn opening to be held at our Evanston store, as soon as present redecorating and remodeling of store is completed. Further announcement soon.

1606 Chicago Ave.

Evanston

ENTERTAINS ILLINI ALUMNAE

Mrs. Charles Howard Bent, 112 Woodland avenue, entertained members of the committee of the Chicago Alumnae association of the University of Illinois in charge of the fall tea for incoming girls at her home Wednesday. The tea is to be given September 11, at the home of Mrs. Charles H. Dennis, 1225 Michigan avenue, Evanston. Mrs. Robert Knox is chairman of the committee. Invitations for the garden tea will be sent out the first part of next week.

Mrs. Fred Loco, 1040 Cherry street, gave a miscellaneous shower Sunday evening in honor of her sister, Miss Pauline Graff of Chicago, whose marriage to A. W. Steele of Salt Lake City, Utah, will take place on September 14 at the Edgewater Beach hotel. Thirty-five guests were invited to the affair, which was a complete surprise to Miss Graff.

Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Barrett and son, Saxton, of 530 Cherry street, left Friday of last week for a two weeks' motor tour through the East. They planned to meet their daughter, Barbara, who has been in camp in New Hampshire, in New York, and tour New England.

Arden Shore to Close Summer Camping Soon

With the first faint tracings deep in the heart of the woods at Lake Bluff presaging the end of the summer and the approach of the autumn. Arden Shore is nearing the period of camp closing for the interval between summer and winter camps.

Tomorrow will mark the departure of the last group of campers there for their Chicago homes, and not until October will there again be the stir and activity there that surrounds the beautiful place where old and young have the opportunity to breathe fresh air and enjoy outdoor living away from city heat and congestion from the time that the Chicago schools close in June until very near to their re-opening in September.

Approximately 3,000 people have had residence at Arden Shore at various periods during the season. Practically 1,000 more children than are customarily cared for there have had their outings this summer at Lake Bluff—a co-operation with the "off-the-streets" movement advanced by city organizations and welfare agencies. The season has been a gratifying one, according to the superintendent, Miss Anna Belle Ferrier. It has been cool; there has been just enough rain, and the jinx that in other years has pursued venturesome small boys with broken bones, has been singularly absent. Miss Ferrier pays high compliment to the able staff that has helped with the camp activities this season.

North shore people may still lend a hand, however, regardless of the impending camp closing, for there is need for discarded summer clothing of all description at the camp.

Last Thursday afternoon was given to the annual entertainment of board members and patrons by Arden Shore campers. The operetta, "Boy Blue," was staged in the pleasant surroundings under the great trees, several hundred of the little folks participating. Echo elves and fat funny green frogs, cunning little fie bugs and Boy Blues and "Mollie" disported themselves in graceful, entertaining manner, offering an appreciated treat to guests. Following the operetta, guests were served refreshments from the spacious camp dining room where board members from the various north shore towns dined and served. The dining room was prettily adorned with choice blossoms from lakeside gardens.

Among those attending from Evanston were Mrs. Alexander W. Moseley and son, Mrs. William J. Wardall, Mrs. Wheaton Augur and Mrs. Frank W. Kingsley.

Mrs. Horace Newhall of 654 Garland avenue, entertained twelve friends at luncheon and bridge Friday, August 20.

School Problems

School problems become easier for the child when eyestrain is removed by properly fitted glasses. Have the child's eyes examined before entering school.

Phone for an appointment

Doctors Bersch & Stone Optometrists

1177 Wilmette Ave., Wilmette
Phone Wilmette 2766
Hrs. 8:30 A. M. to 5:30 P. M.
Evenings by Appointment

GET OUT THE WINTER CLOTHES
and let us clean and repair them now at summer rates

JACK H. IPJIAN, Mgr.

LADIES' AND GENTS' TAILORS
Oriental and Domestic Rugs Cleaned and Repaired

1738 SHERMAN AVENUE
One Block North of Post Office EVANSTON, ILL.