Highland Park Man to Occupy Wilmette Home

Andrew Frankovitz, of 1715 Elmwood avenue, is building one of the many homes which are being erected on Seventeenth street, Wilmette, this season, and which A. E. Schooley, of Highland Park, in charge of construction, hopes to have ready for occupancy by the middle of October. It is located at No. 200. It will be of brick veneer construction, comprising six rooms and sun parlor and there will be a two-car garage. The improvements it is said are costing about $10,000.

Newly-Weds to Occupy Spanish Type Bungalow

Unusual interest is centered about the Spanish bungalow which is being erected at 230 17th street, Wilmette, by George Gauger, of 229 Linden avenue, Wilmette, which is to be the home of his daughter, Miss Edna, who is to be married soon to Chester Gould, of Evanston. The little home of the newly-weds-to-be, will comprise five rooms and will be of Spanish architectural design. The outer construction will be pink stucco, in texture finish, and as all properly constructed Spanish bungalows, will have a tile roof. The Scown Building company, of Chicago, are builders.

Builds New Homes in Fast Growing Wilmette District

Andrew Thorp, who has been identified with the building interests in Wilmette for a number of years, is another of the local builders who have gone in strong for the Seventeenth street property which has enjoyed such an active market since its subdivision by Hoyt King, only three years ago.

Mr. Thorp built his first home here a few months ago, at No. 211 and occupied it himself last spring. It is a pretty six-room, Dutch colonial of brick and is for sale, Mr. Thorp says, at $19,500.

He has also just completed a pretty six-room, English colonial, brick veneer house at No. 112, with sun parlor, breakfast nook and two-car garage, which he is offering at $21,500.

Mr. Thorp, several months ago, also purchased the one hundred feet of nicely wooded vacant at the northeast corner of Seventeenth and Isabella streets, and on the north fifty feet fronting on Seventeenth street and known as No. 108, he expects to break ground within the next few days for a six-room, English colonial, brick residence costing between $21,000 and $22,000. He already has completed a two-car garage on this property.

W. R. MacInnes of Montreal, vice president of the Canadian Pacific Railway, and Sir George McLaren Brown of London, England, general European manager of the company, are to be the house guests of W. A. Kittermaster of Glencoe over this week-end.
