

OPEN NEW ADDITION

Chandler's Book Store at Fountain Square, Evanston, Enlarges Quarters

Distinction and beauty characterize the new addition to Chandler's store at Fountain Square, Evanston, which was opened to the public this week. The new quarters which add nearly 1,600 square feet to the floor space of this already commodious store, are occupied by the book, gift and stationery departments.

No expense has been spared to make the new room a center of beauty. The entire interior is finished in ivory tone enamel with walnut trimmings. The floor is constructed of moulstone, adding much to the attractiveness of the room.

Entrance to the addition can be made from Sherman avenue where three large show windows, containing pleasing displays, attract the attention of the passers-by.

The book department which was formerly located in another room of the store now occupies a much larger and better lighted quarters in the new addition. Books of poetry, drama, travel and fiction may all be found on the numerous new shelves that have been installed.

Woman In Charge

Mrs. Helen Hutchings whose knowledge of best sellers and books of quality has won her a large following on the north shore, has complete charge of the department. Book lovers are invited to inspect the wide assortment of literature that is contained on the shelves.

Miss Marion Osten of 913 Cherry street gave a miscellaneous shower and bridge at her home Saturday afternoon of last week in honor of Miss Harriet Childs, who is to become the bride of Burton H. Atwood, Jr., Saturday, September 11.

Radio Fans to Witness Big Exhibit in Chicago

Radio fans of the midwest and particularly of Chicago and vicinity will join with manufacturers and dealers from all over the country in dedicating the 1927 radio season the latter part of this month with opening of the National Radio exposition, September 27, at the Exhibition hall, Hotel Sherman. The show will be held from September 27 to October 2 and will be the official radio dealers' show of the year.

The first opportunity of the season to view the latest models and radio parts will turn an early spotlight on the country's fastest growing industry and, from present indications, more than two hundred of the latest models of the leading radio manufacturers will be on exhibition at the show.

Orville J. Borchers to Direct Methodist Music

Orville Jennings Borchers has been secured by the music committee of the Wilmette Parish Methodist church as choir director. He begins his work Sunday, September 12. It will be remembered that Mr. Borchers built up a great choir for this church and efficiently directed it for two years. He has completed two years' teaching in the State college of Texas.
