Apply the "OUNCE of PREVENTION" Idea to your driveway—Now!

You've heard how an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure . . . Well, this has bearing on your driveway.

By applying a top dressing, all small holes and crevices are filled, thereby preventing water collecting and freezing. You know what damage the freezing and thawing does; how gradually but surely your driveway becomes a series of miniature "shellholes." By spring the consequences are serious, and very much more costly to repair than the top dressing put on now.
