

A World's Record of more than speed

From Coast to Coast in 83 hours, 12 minutes, August 23 - 27 — a new world's record for the Wills Sainte Claire Six.

This is surely an amazing demonstration of far more than speed, for speed alone can never make transcontinental records.

The glory of Wills Sainte Claire's triumphant performance lies in the dramatic exhibition of relentless endurance for 3368 miles, with every working part subjected to terrific strain, yet functioning with absolute dependability—

The car's agility in the get-away that compensates for delays due to traffic and bad roads and thus raises the average speed—

And last, but by no means least, the perfect control of Wills Hydraulic Four Wheel Brakes that saves time on turns and assures safety.

For swift flight, perfect control and dogged endurance there is no car superior to Wills Sainte Claire.

Get behind the wheel and subject this brilliant car to every test of quality you can think of. Its performance will astonish you.
