B. W. Blow Moves Into New Offices on Center Street

B. W. Blow moved this week into his new and modern building at 660 Center street Winnetka, from whence all business of excavating, construction of private drives building and road material, crane, roller and steam shovel service will be conducted.

For the past fourteen years Mr. Blow has been located at 813 Elm street, during which time his business has grown into huge proportions, for which his new building on Center street is especially adapted.

The new building contains two office rooms, a large garage and one apartment. Mr. Blow will soon occupy one of the office rooms, and the garage will be for his trucks. His teams will remain at the former location, 1009 Elm street. James Lang will occupy the other office room in the new building.

Mrs. Edgar Crilly of 375 Sheridan road was hostess yesterday for the all-day monthly meeting of the Woman's auxiliary of the Post Graduate hospital.

Emphasize Home Comforts in New Evans Apartment

The new John Evans Apartment, Hinman avenue and Davis street, Evanston, is rapidly nearing completion, according to its builders, the Victor C. Carlson corporation.

This great structure is designed, according to its builders, to conform in atmosphere to the homelike character of Evanston and the north shore. All of the larger apartments will contain real old-fashioned wood-burning fireplaces. There are to be "cheery living rooms, spacious chambers where there is closet space for everybody, and most modern baths." Other strictly modern features are incinerators and mechanical refrigeration, kitchens said to be models of convenience, and maid service provided on an hourly basis.

The new John Evans Apartment is of absolutely fireproof construction throughout, it is explained.

Another feature tending to emphasize the homelike atmosphere is found in the quarter acre squares between the two three-story wings of the building. These spacious grounds will be taken up largely by formal gardens.

Here's First Realty Transfer by Air Mail

Twenty cents and air mail service brought a letter from Long Beach, Cal., to Paul Schroeder and company, on a real estate deal this week, in two nights and a day. "That's stepping on the gas," he says. The letter was postmarked in the California postoffice at 5 p. m. September 21, and the Chicago postmark is 7 p. m., September 23. With distance thus eliminated, California becomes a mere suburb of Chicago, in the matter of making quick real estate deals, and this is said to be among the first of its kind in Wilmette.
