

Something New

WE have recently added to our ambulance equipment an Emergency Carrier. This is in addition to the regular cot. It is used in carrying a patient up and down stairs where the cot cannot be used without discomfort.

It is especially useful in carrying patients to and from trains, the carrier being passed through the car window. Thus, the patient is not disturbed from the time he leaves his bed at home until he is placed upon the bed in the Pullman.

We have recently added to our personnel Mr. Ray Green who has charge of our ambulance. Mr. Green is an experienced Ambulance man, having taken a special course in Ambulance Service.

We are constantly striving to perfect our Ambulance Service. Our attendants are uniformed.

“I may be ‘settled’ but not ‘down,’”

says Marjorie

“I don’t like that expression about ‘married and settled down,’” said Marjorie. “It makes me think of all the married women who seem to be too busy to do anything but grow old. I see no reason why the altar should be a short cut to the old folks’ home. Settled? Yes. Down? No!”

We think Marjorie’s point of view has a lot to recommend it, and we know that she and hundreds of our other patrons have learned that the wedding day need not be the final chapter in the book of youth and charm. And we’re glad to feel that our services, while freeing women from washday work and worry, are giving them new hours of leisure and happiness, helping them to a longer youth and a richer life.

If you are feeling just a bit submerged in the endless routine of monotonous household duties, give us a ring. For using a modern laundry is one of the best aids to being “settled,” but not “down.”
